

DESIGNING WITH WORDS

Content Design at The New Yorker

SOPHIE TAHRAN
DESIGN MATTERS

THE NEW YORKER

*in*VISION

lyft

TODAY'S AGENDA

What content design is

Why it matters

Best practices and processes

Breaking the rules

PART 0.5

About The New Yorker

Established in 1925 as a
Manhattan-centric print magazine

ELEMENTS

THE RACE TO SAVE THE WORLD'S DNA

A scientific rescue mission aims to analyze every plant, animal, and fungus before it's too late.

By Matthew Hutson

August 9, 2023

ANNALS OF EDUCATION

VIRTUAL-REALITY SCHOOL IS THE NEXT FRONTIER OF THE SCHOOL-CHOICE MOVEMENT

FLASH FICTION

MY CHEESECAKE- SHAPED POVERTY

BY HARUKI MURAKAMI

September 7, 2023

"It's free, but they sell your information."

Give the gift of The New Yorker.

THE NEW YORKER

Newsletter My Account

News Books & Culture Fiction & Poetry Humor & Cartoons Magazine Puzzles & Games Video Podcasts Goings On Festival Shows

LETTER FROM IDENIS WASHINGTON

House Republicans Refuse to Host Zelensky Because They're Too Busy Fighting One Another

Reflections on a day of self-parody on Capitol Hill.

By Susan B. Glasser

CULTURAL COMMENT

THE REAL MESSAGE OF "THE REAL HOUSEWIVES"

Since the show's rise during the Great Recession, it has fulfilled a pedagogical role in women's media. The lesson it imparts is: you better work, bitch.

By Jennifer Wilson

News & Culture

ONWARD AND UPWARD
The Bloomsbury Group
By Rebecca M.

DAILY COMMENT
Rishi Sunak's Retreat
By Sam Knight

SCREENING ROOM
Inner Turmoil Turbulence in Film by Thane
Text by Hannal

AT BAT
Rock Stars Sing
By Louisa Thor

Q & A
Sikh Separatist
Conflic Berw
By Isaac Chafiz

AUDIO

From This Week's Issue

BOOKS

How Glossier Made Effortlessness a Billion-Dollar Brand

By Molly Fischer • 22 minutes

Reporting & Essays

Turns 99 this year

Turns 5 this year

How should the magazine's
99-year-old voice sound in an interface?

HOW DO YOU DO, FELLOW KIDS?

PART 1

What is content design?

UX Writing

Content Design

WHAT IS CONTENT DESIGN?

The practice of designing useful content that guides users through digital experiences.

WHAT IS CONTENT DESIGN?

Helping the product and its user understand one another.

WHAT IS CONTENT DESIGN?

Designers who look through a written lens more than a visual one.

WHAT IS CONTENT DESIGN?

Content Designer

Technical Writer

Copywriter

Product Design

Engineering

Marketing

Figma

Docs

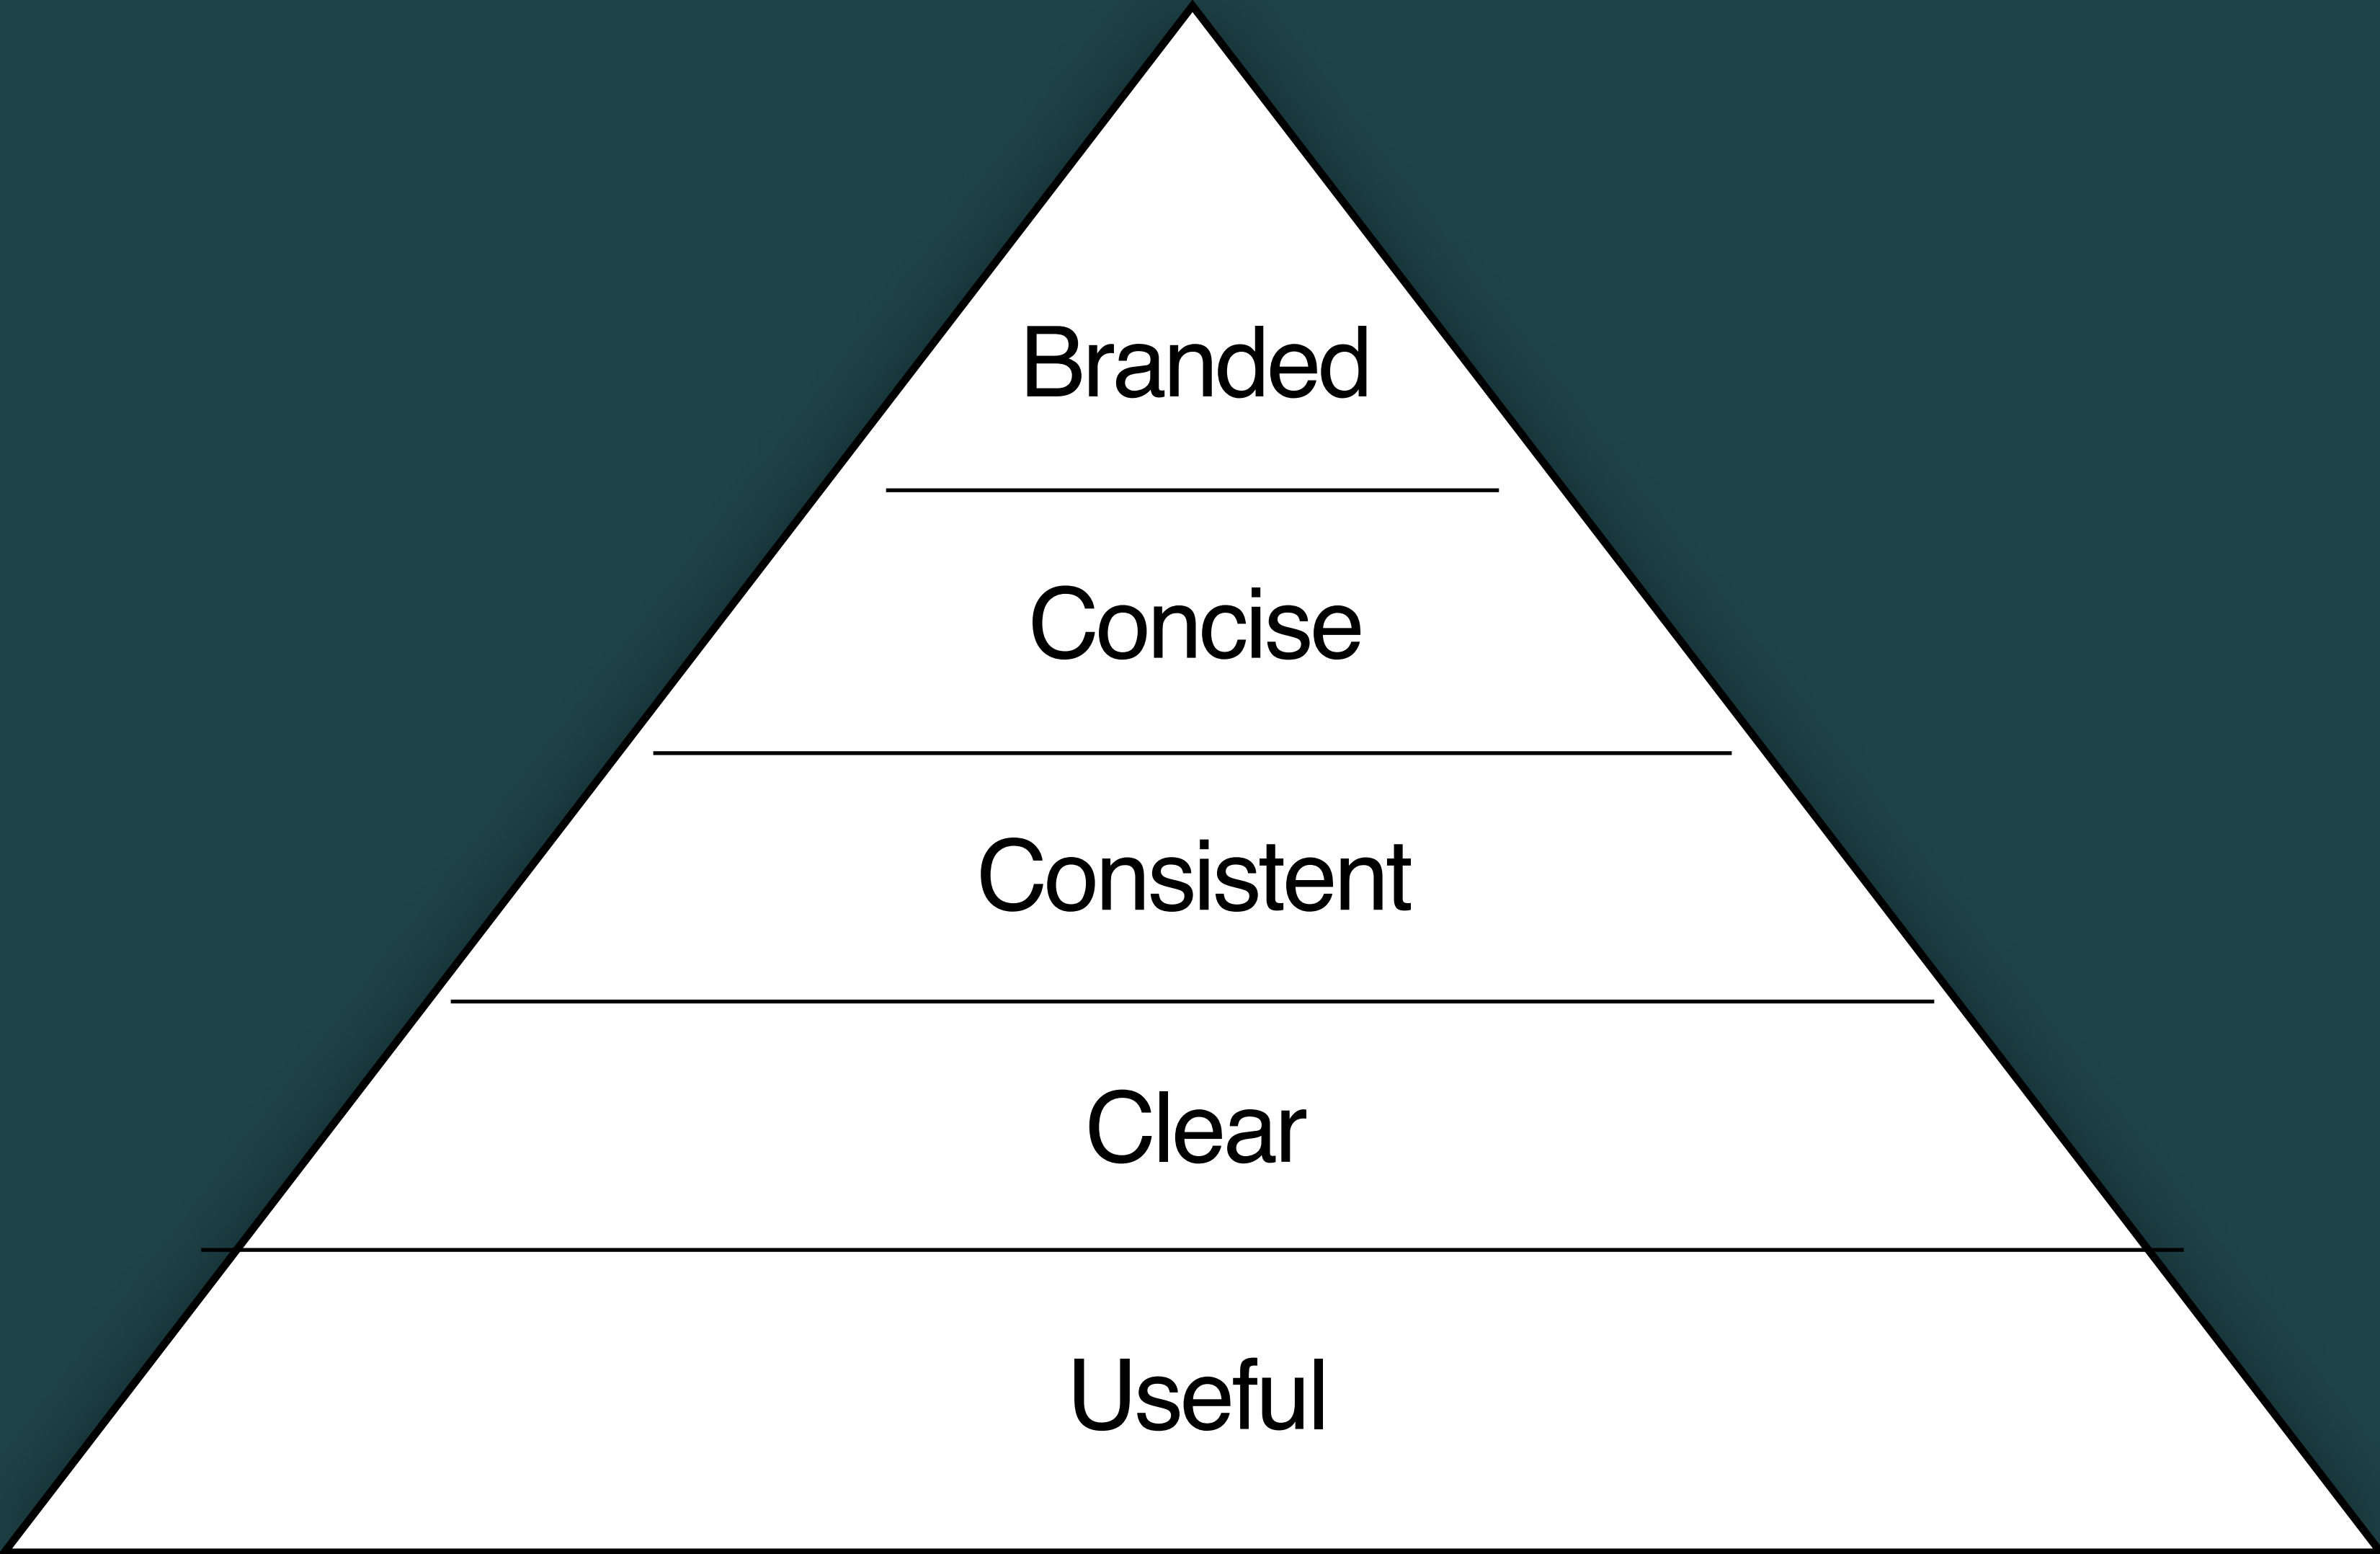

Docs

Designs

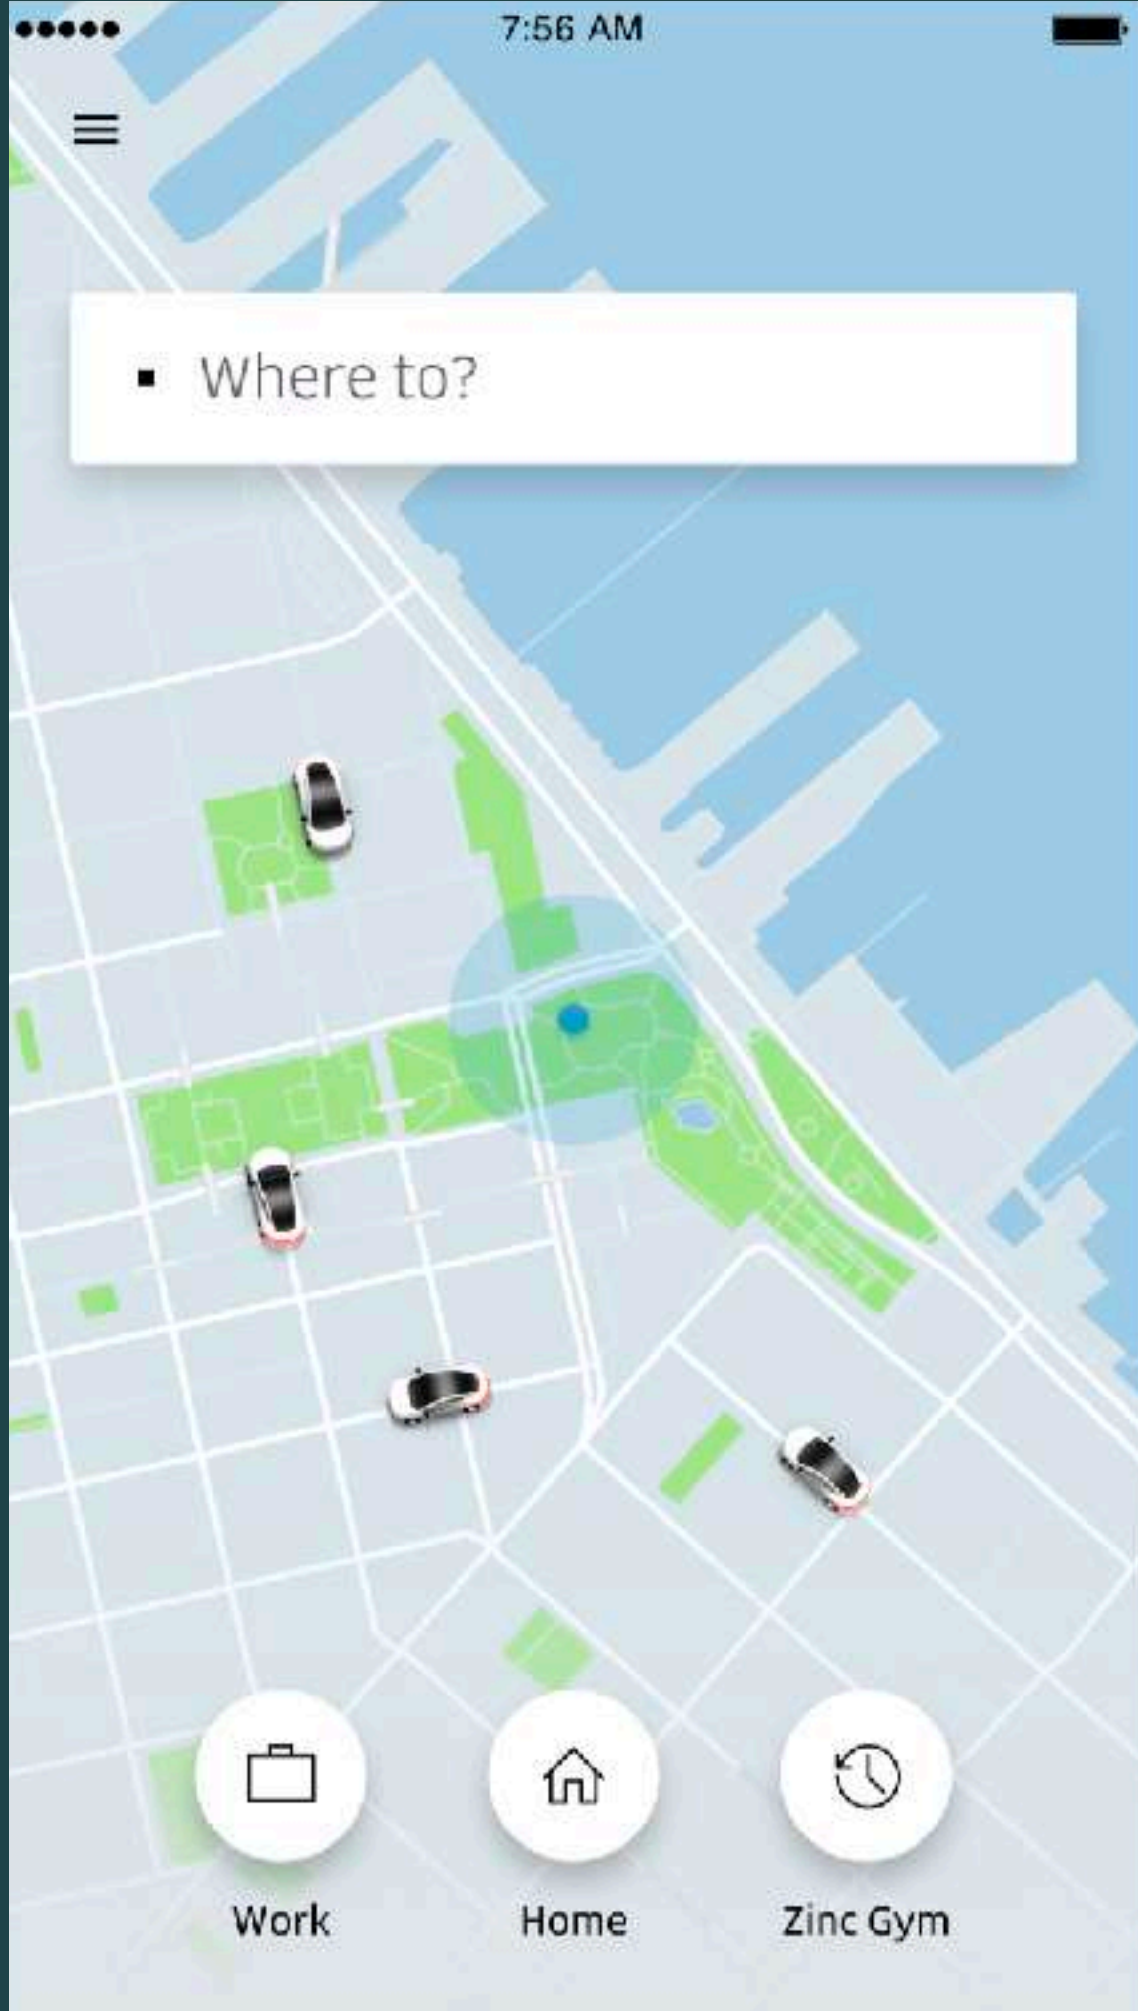

Explains

Announces

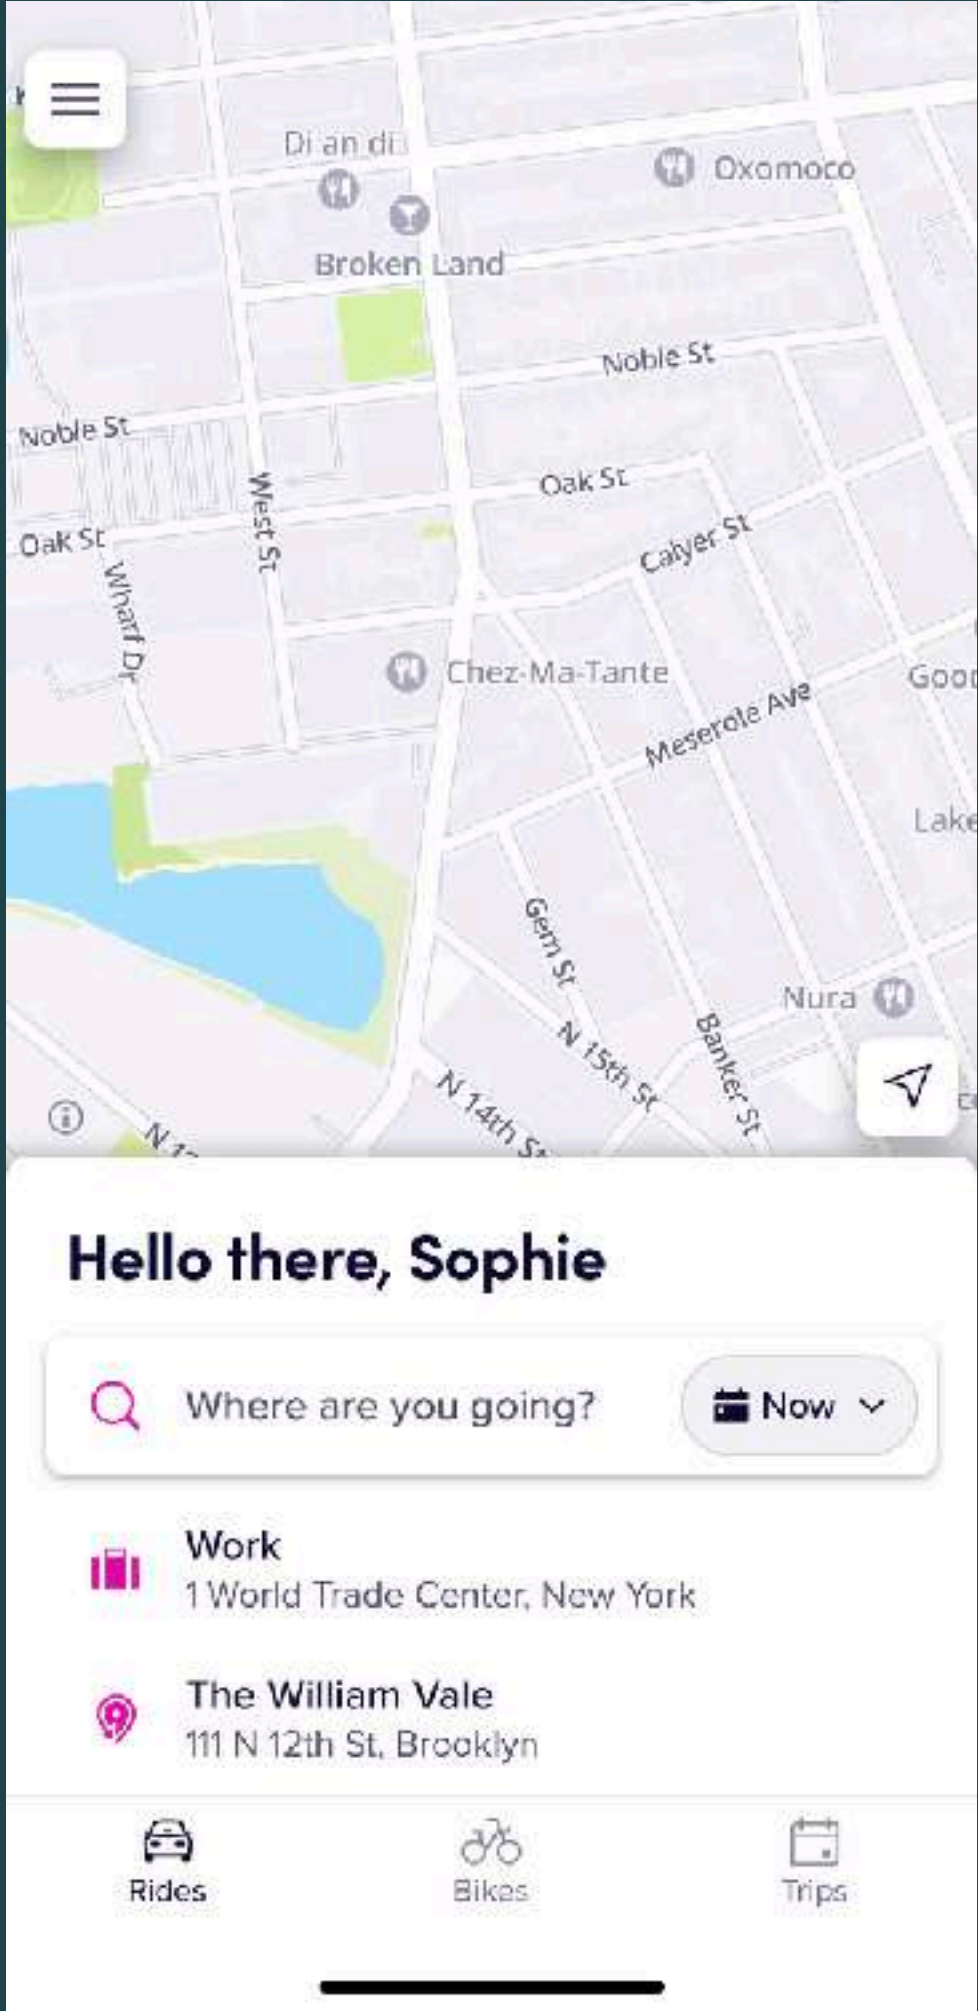

WHAT IS CONTENT DESIGN?

EXAMPLES OF CONTENT DESIGN

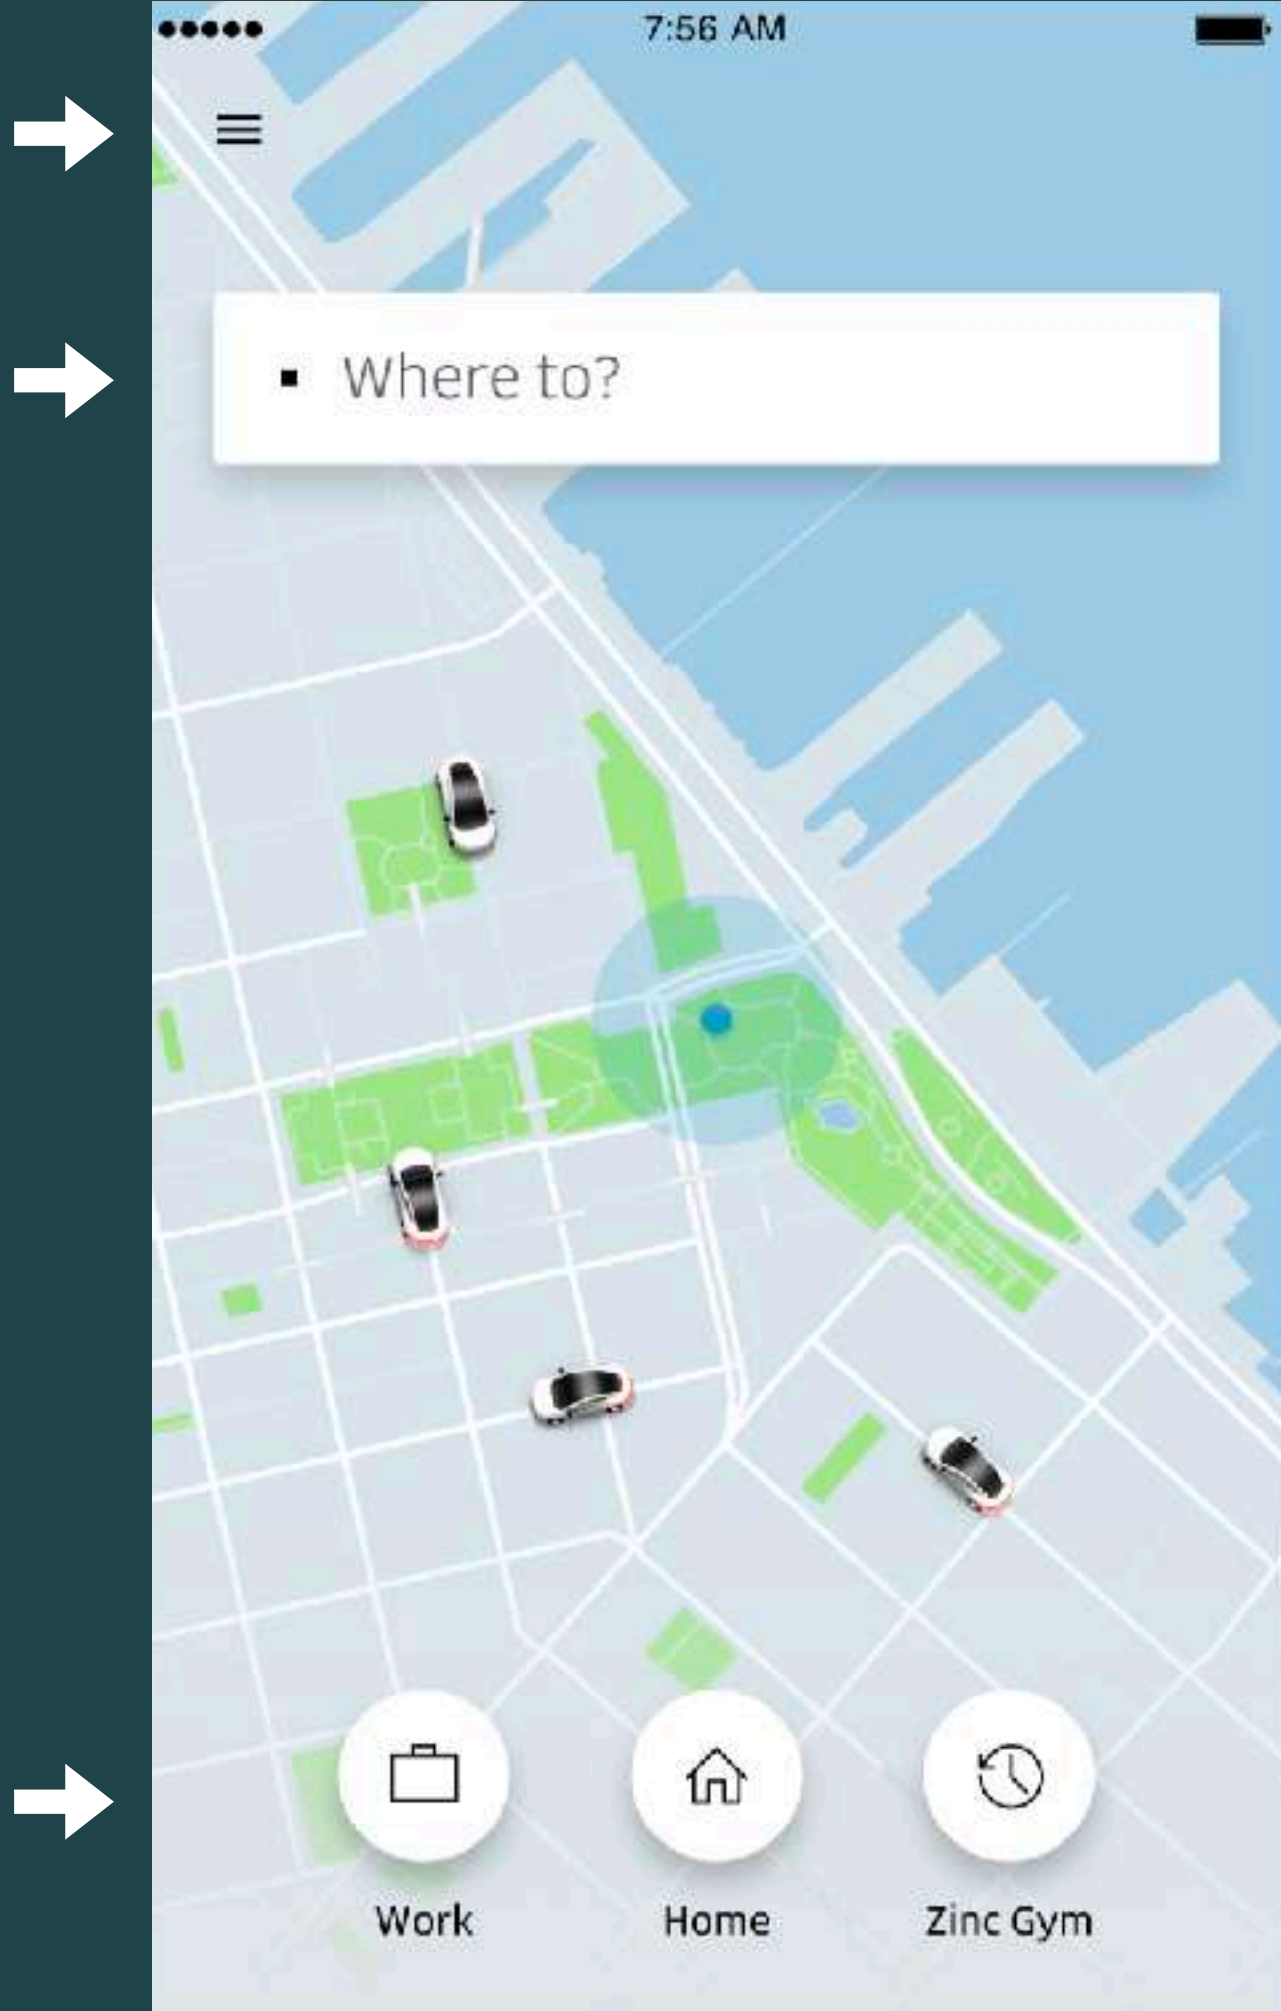

UBER

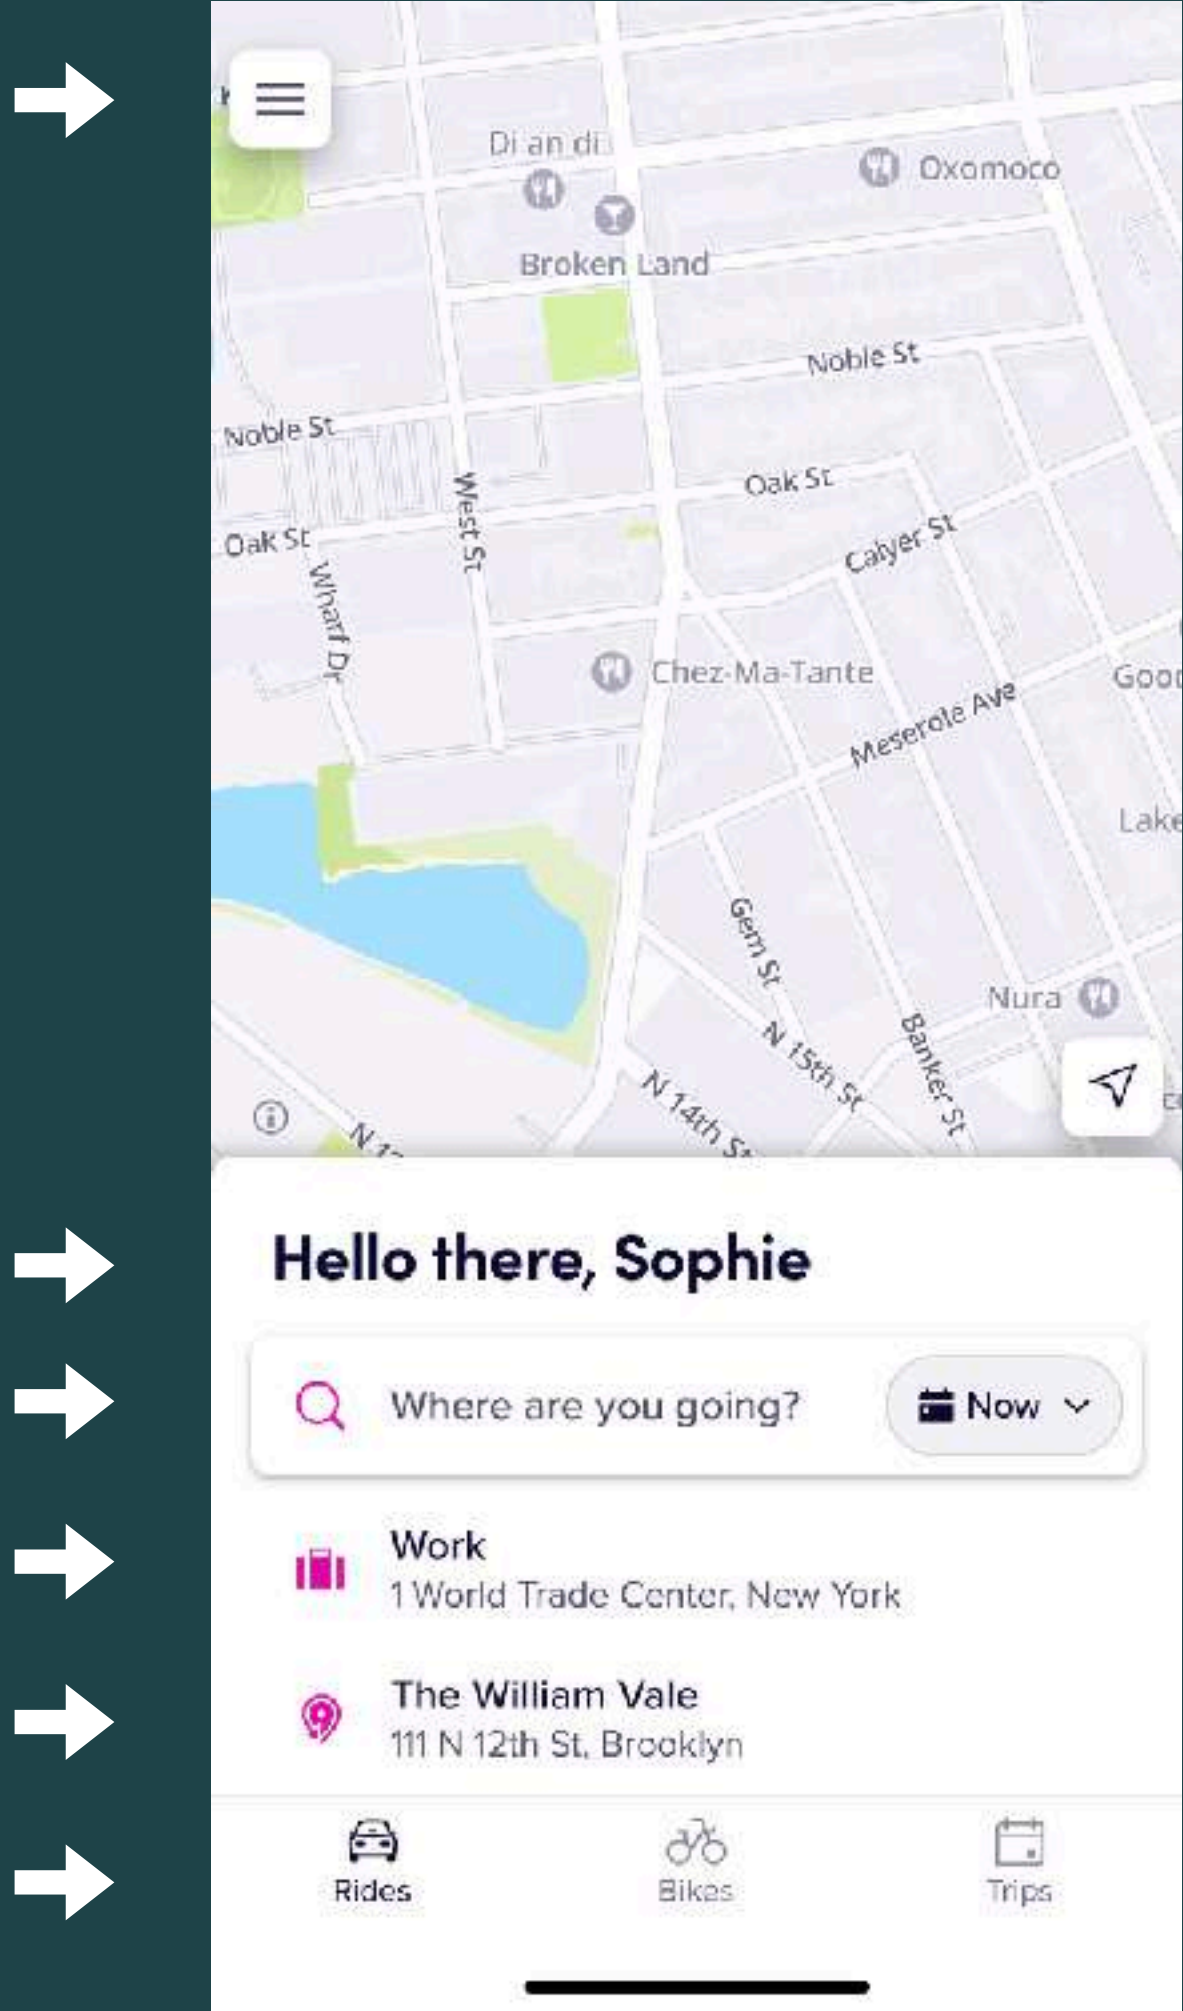

LYFT

EXAMPLES OF CONTENT DESIGN

UBER

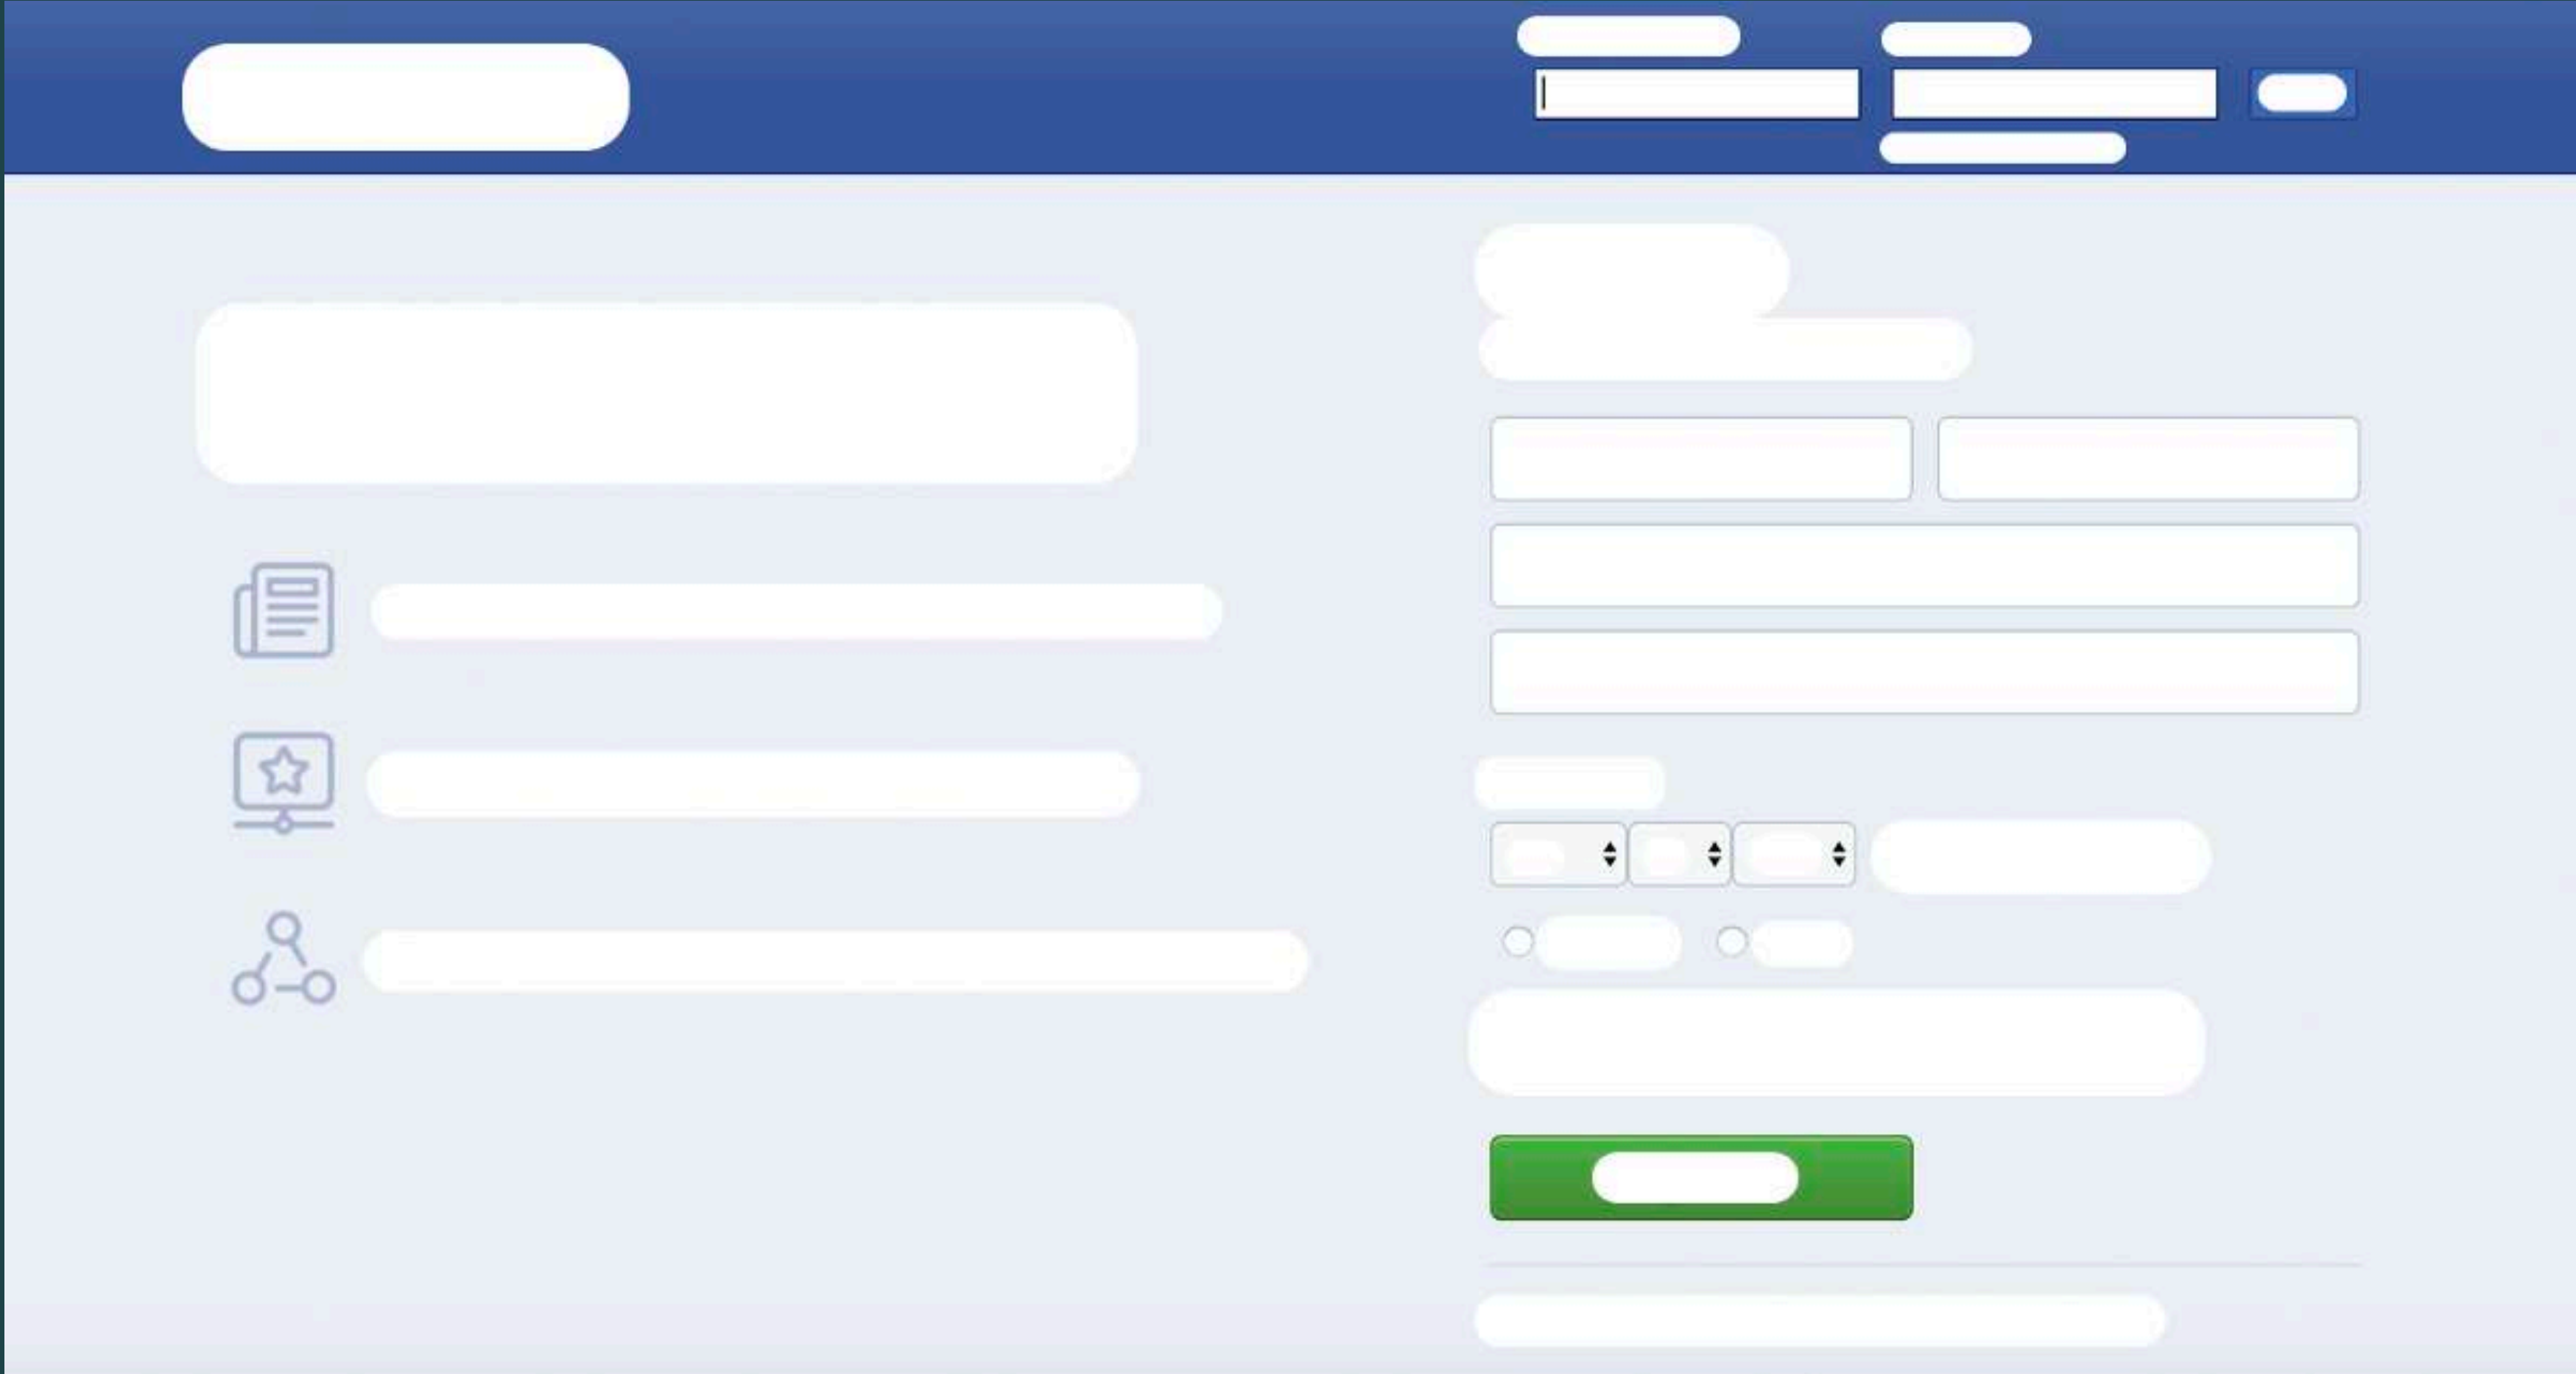

LYFT

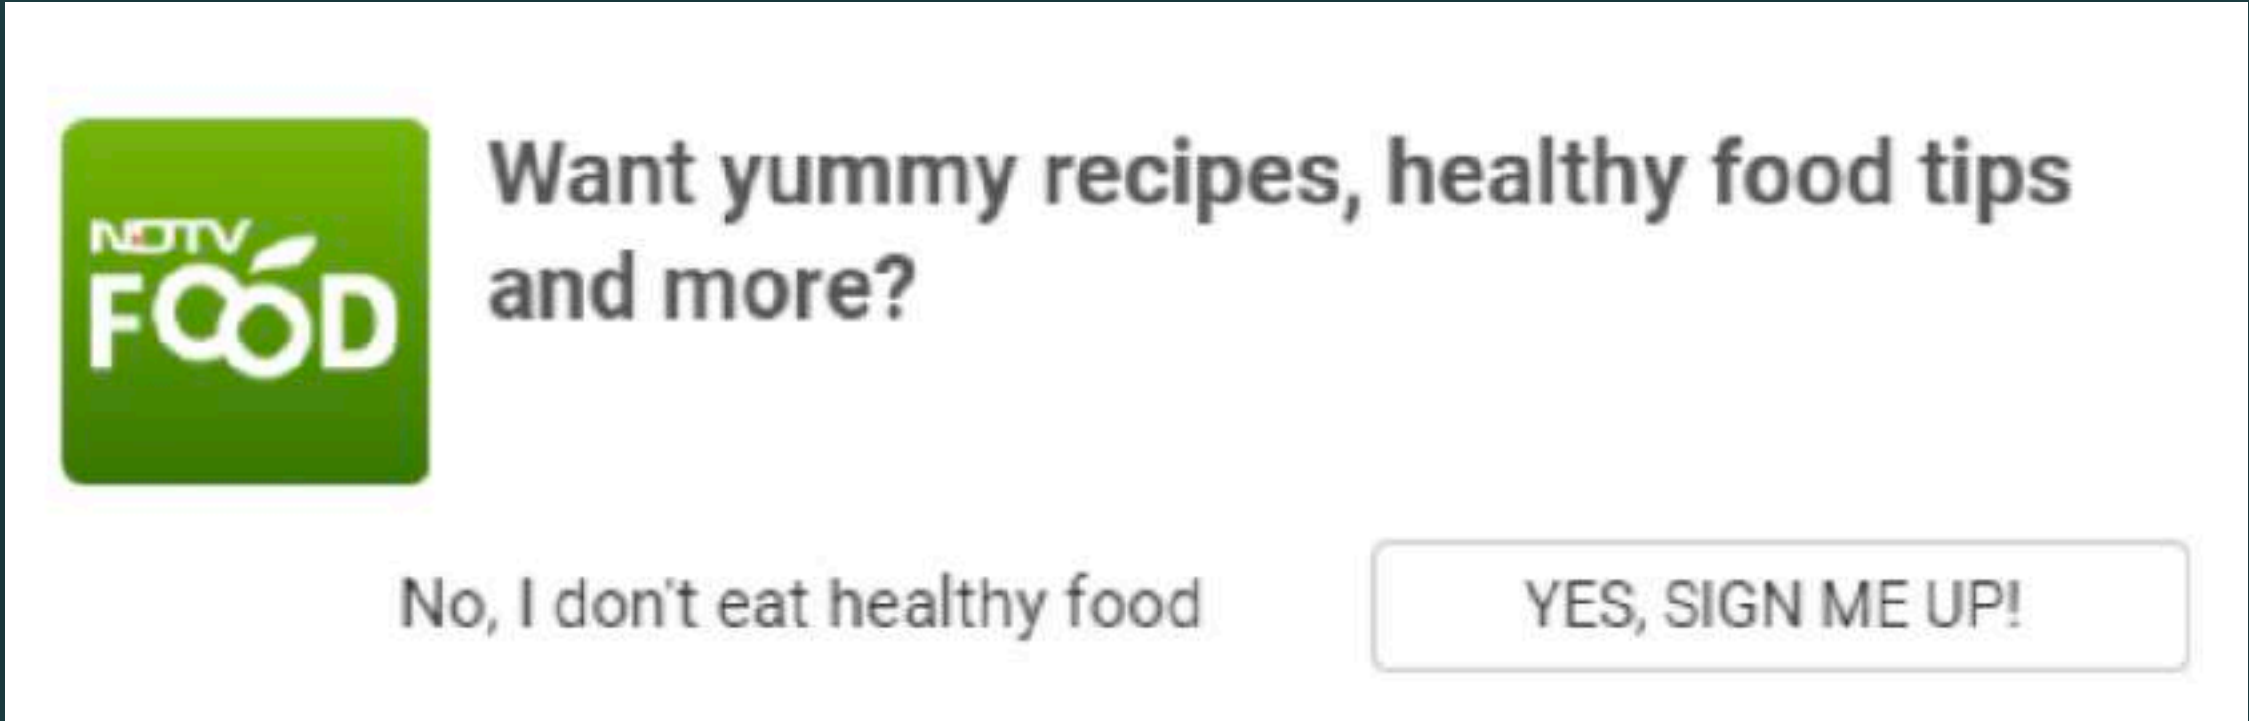

EXAMPLES OF CONTENT DESIGN

The image shows a screenshot of the 'SIGN IN TO YOUR ACCOUNT' page on The New Yorker website. The page features a clean, minimalist design with a white background and black text. At the top, the 'THE NEW YORKER' logo is centered, with 'Newsletter' and 'My Account' links to the right. A search icon is also present. Below the logo, a horizontal navigation bar lists various content categories: News, Books & Culture, Fiction & Poetry, Humor & Cartoons, Magazine, Crossword, Video, Podcasts, Archive, and Festival. The main heading 'SIGN IN TO YOUR ACCOUNT' is prominently displayed in a large, serif font. Below the heading, a link 'Need an account? Create one.' is provided. The sign-in form is enclosed in a white box with a thin border. It contains two input fields: 'E-mail' with the placeholder text 'Your e-mail address' and 'Password' with the placeholder text 'Your password' and a 'Show' button. A checkbox labeled 'Keep me signed in' is checked, and a link for 'Forgot password?' is located to its right. A large black button with the text 'Sign in' is positioned at the bottom of the form. At the bottom of the page, a footer note reads: 'To manage your subscription, please visit Customer Care. Or, if you subscribed through Amazon, visit the Amazon Digital Subscriptions Manager'. The entire screenshot is annotated with white arrows: two pointing down from the top, seven pointing right from the left edge, and one pointing up from the bottom center.

EXAMPLES OF CONTENT DESIGN

NOT-SO-GOOD EXAMPLES

Why this matters

WHY THIS MATTERS

Better products

WHY THIS MATTERS

Better products

Better user experiences

WHY THIS MATTERS

Better products

Better user experiences

Better brands

PART 2

Creating Your Process

STARTING POINT

STARTING POINT

THE GOAL

Process in Practice

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

Let's say you're designing ...

A success message for a submission
to the Cartoon Caption Contest,
with clear next steps.

CARTOON

CAPTION CONTEST

Your Caption

Fifteen years in the bathroom-sign industry is impressive, but crosswalk work is a whole different ballgame.

Submit

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

Let's say you're designing ...

A success message for a submission
to the Cartoon Caption Contest,
with clear next steps.

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

Which words are your users using?

EMPATHIZE

idea favorite winner

vote

finalist rating

submission

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

Find your flow.

I heard you want to archive some channels. Which ones?

Just the inactive ones.

OK - any you want to exclude?

Yeah, ones that have been inactive for less than a month.

Oh! And any our CEO is in.

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

Let's say you're designing ...

A success message for a submission
to the Cartoon Caption Contest,
with clear next steps.

DEFINE

We received your submission—thank you!

Readers will vote on it, and you'll see the results next week.

Sure thing! You can vote on last week's captions.

Cool, what now?

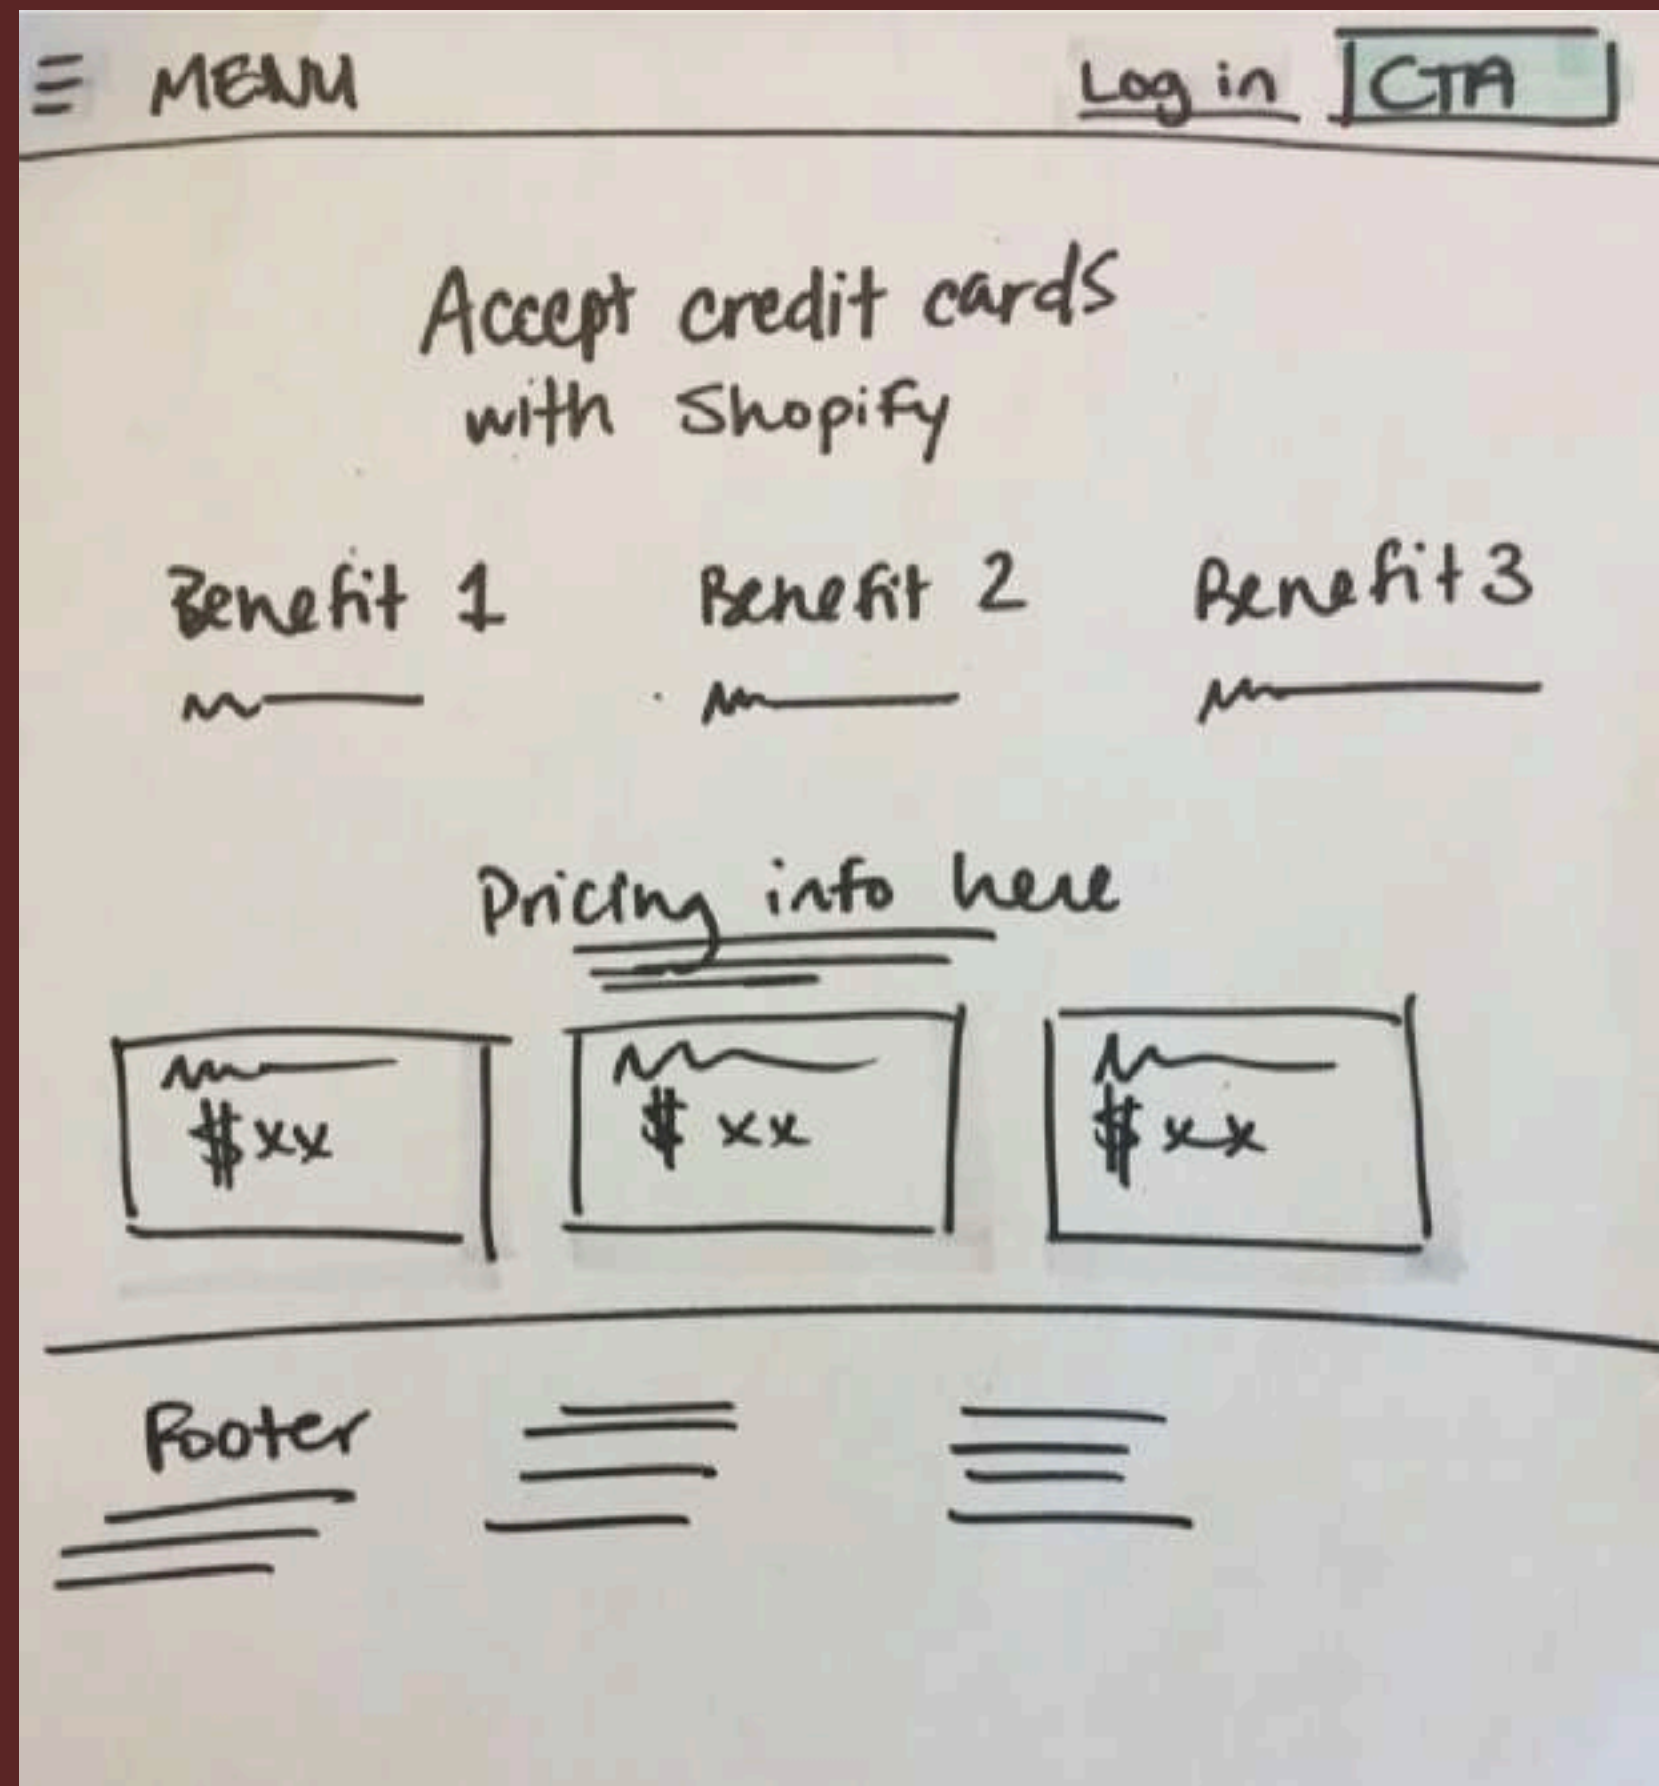

Can I do anything else in the meantime?

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

Wireframe using lo-fi copy.

IDEATE

X

✓

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

Let's say you're designing ...

A success message for a submission
to the Cartoon Caption Contest,
with clear next steps.

X

CAPTION RECEIVED

Thank you, your submission has been received. The finalists will be revealed next week once the votes are tallied.

Vote on last week

Close

Thanks for your Submission!

Check back next week—you'll see the finalists then.

Vote on last week's captions »

X

CAPTION RECEIVED

Thank you, your submission has been received. The finalists will be revealed next week once the votes are tallied.

Vote on last week

Close

Thanks for your Submission!

Check back next week—you'll see the finalists then.

Vote on last week's captions »

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

Take your lo-fi
copy hi-fi.

Applying best practices

Slide 52

Applying best practices

TRANSLATE JARGON

X

Error 978

Boolean operation failed.

✓

No results found

Try expanding your search.

MAKE ERRORS HELPFUL

X

Sorry, you entered the wrong information.

✓

That password isn't correct.
Want to reset your password?

BE ACTIVE, NOT PASSIVE

Your email address will need to be added to create an account.

Add your email address to create your account.

PUNCTUATE WISELY

Use &! ; — sparingly.

CAPITALIZE CONSISTENTLY

This is sentence case	This is Title Case
Best for long phrases	Best for short phrases
Easier to implement	Stands out in context
More approachable	More gravitas

Avoid arbitrary Capitalization.

How can I choose friends to help me log in if I ever get locked out of my account?

Computer Help Mobile Help ▾

Share Article

You can choose friends to be trusted contacts in case you're ever locked out of your Facebook account. After you've chosen your friends, they'll be able to send you a recovery code with a special URL you can use to get back into your account.

To choose your trusted contacts:

- 1 Go to your Security and Login settings.
- 2 Scroll down to Choose 3 to 5 friends to contact if you get locked out and click Edit.
- 3 Click Choose friends and follow the on-screen instructions.

After you've chosen your trusted contacts, you can always click Edit to change or remove the friends you've chosen.

EMBRACE REPETITION

X

Sign in ✕

✕ Unable to log in

✓

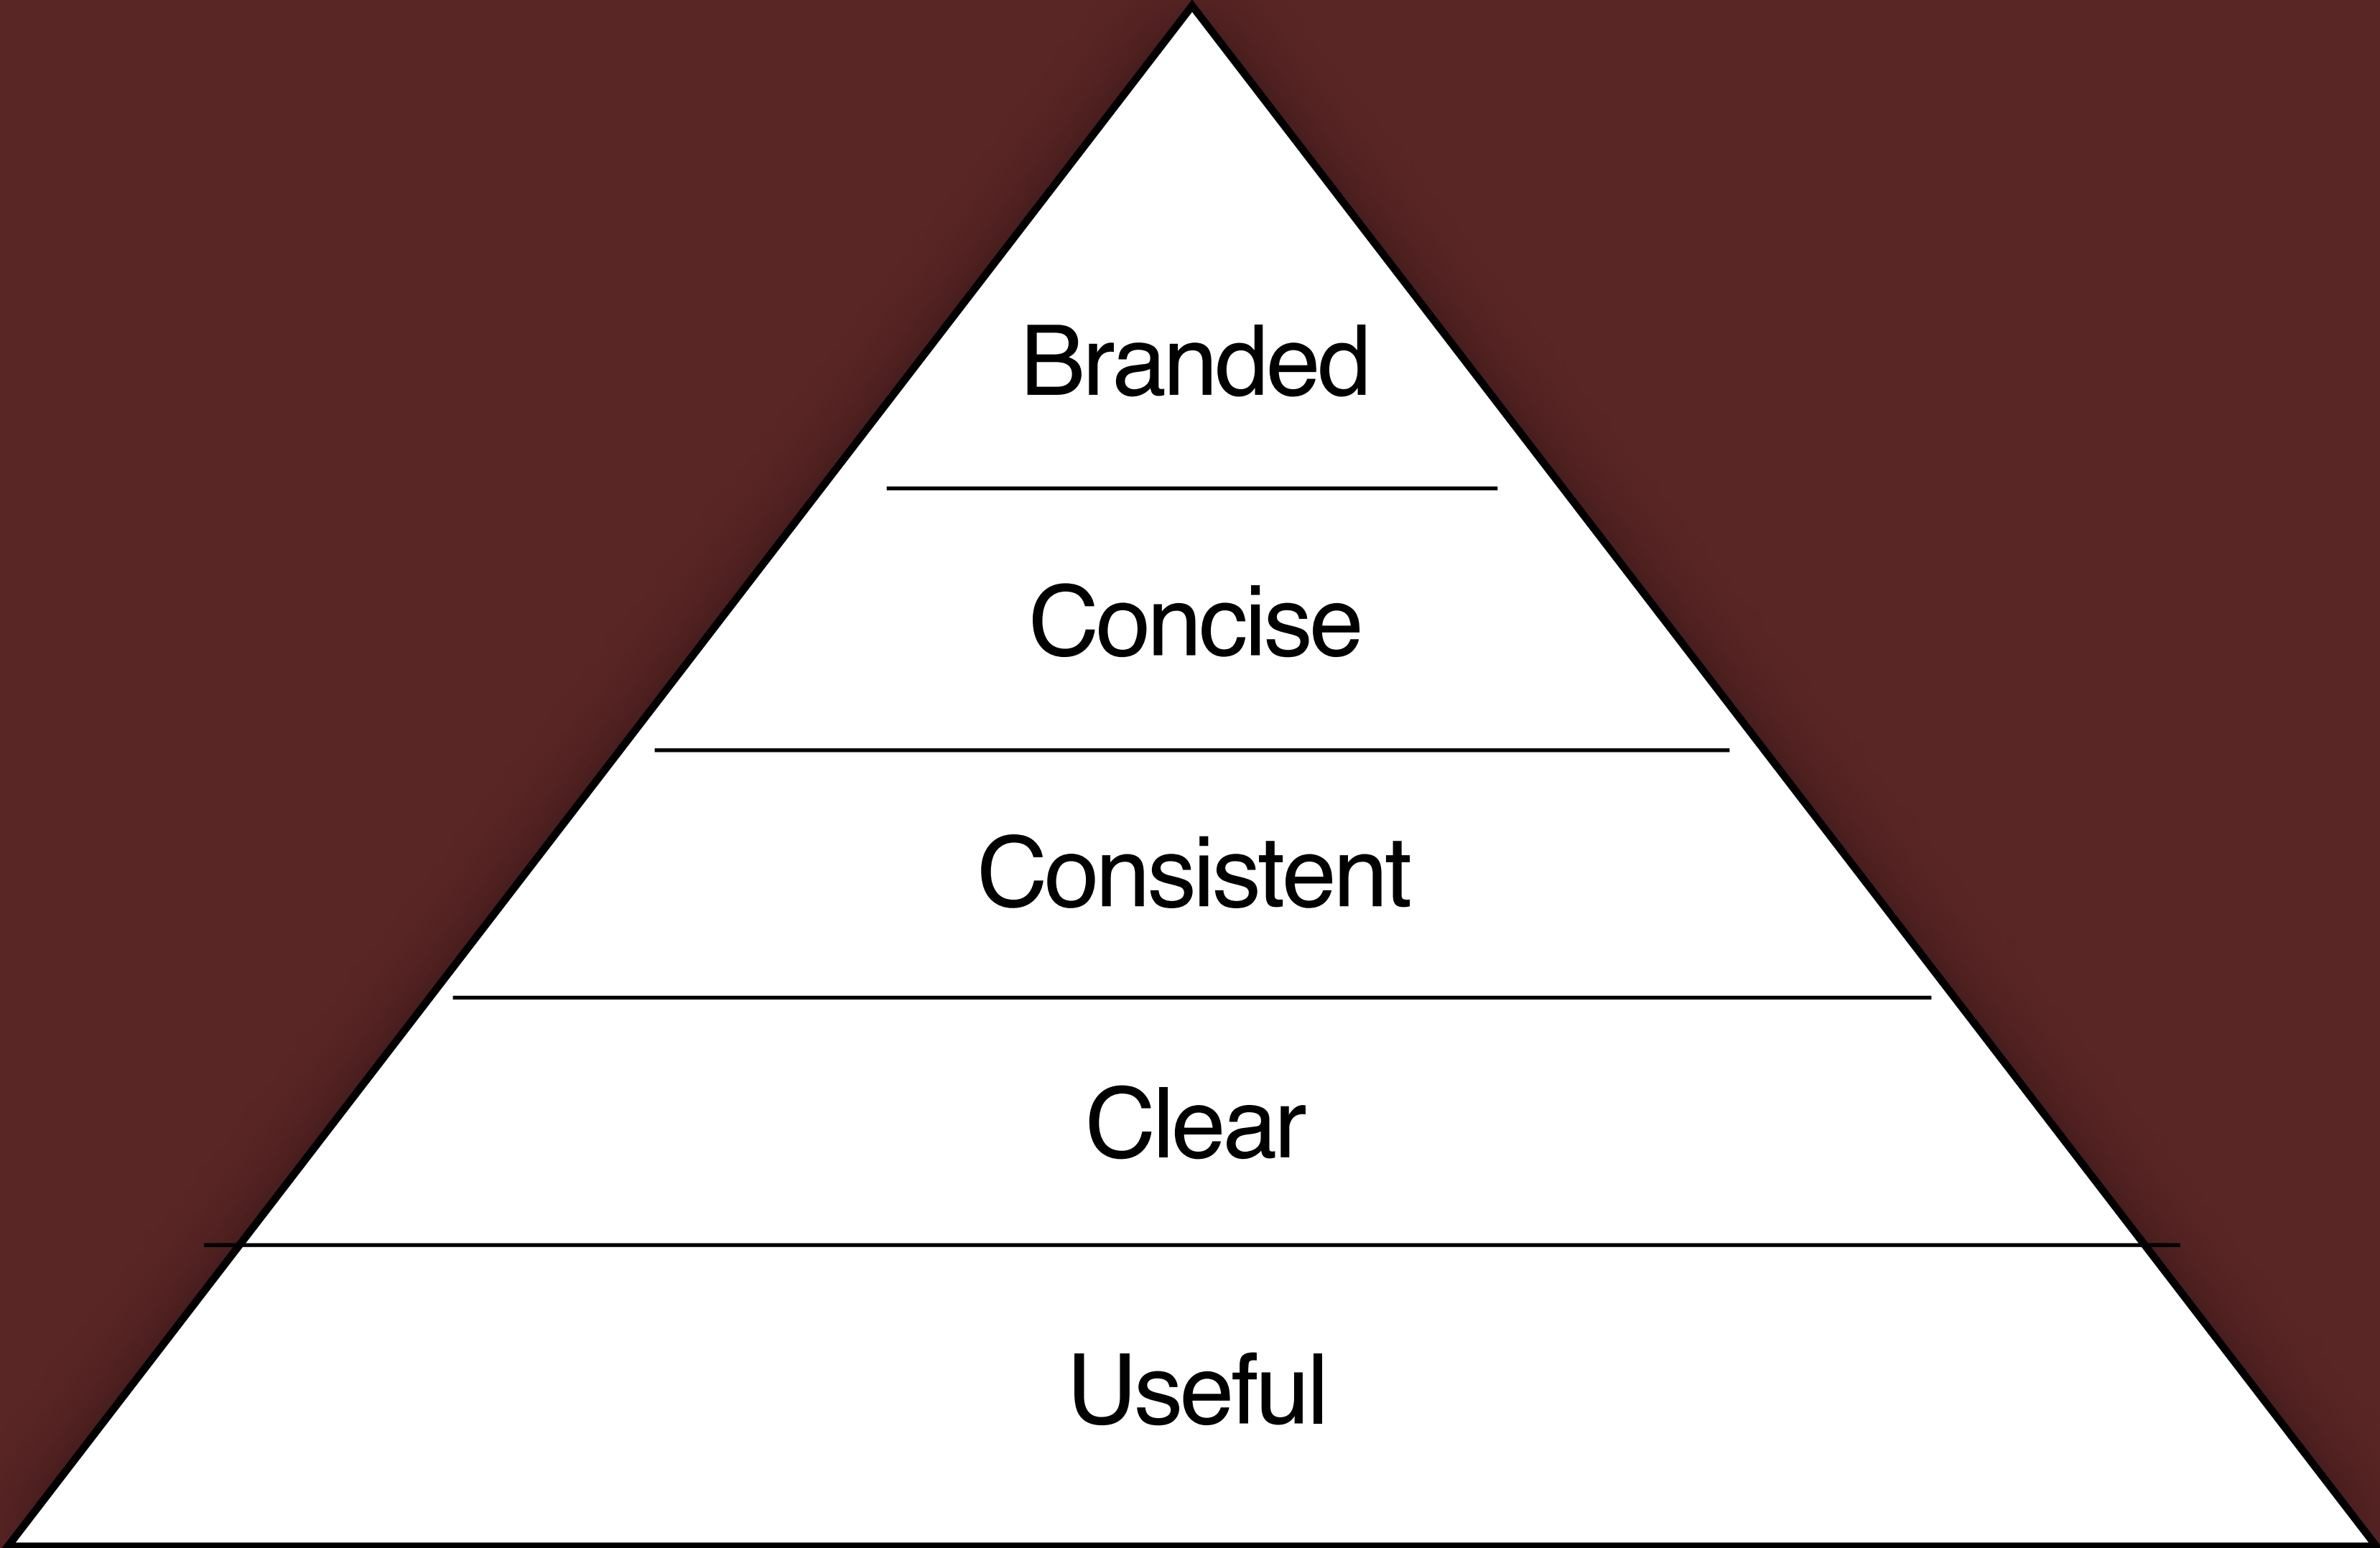

Sign in ✕

✕ Username not found

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

Take your lo-fi
copy hi-fi.

Your content is ...

free of jargon

actionable

capitalized intentionally punctuated simply helpful, especially in error states

GO HI-FI

Thanks for your Submission!

Check back next week—you'll see the finalists then.

Vote on last week's captions »

Thanks for your submission!

Check back next week to see the finalists.

Vote on last week's captions »

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

Highlight helpful
copy.

TEST YOUR CONTENT

Highlight helpful words in green, confusing words in yellow,
and useless words in red.

TEST YOUR CONTENT

Thanks for your submission!

*Check back next week to
see the finalists.*

Vote on last week's captions »

Thanks for your submission!

*Check back on October 6th
to see the finalists.*

Vote on last week »

TEST YOUR CONTENT

Thanks for your submission!

Check back on October 6th
to see the finalists.

Vote on last week »

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

PROCESS IN PRACTICE

Creating a Content Design Style Guide

coöperate

e-mail

Web

off-line

reëntry

Wi-Fi

Internet

O.K.

focussed

CREATING A STYLE GUIDE

Gain access to The New Yorker's
99-year-old house style guide.

~~Foster a relationship with Editorial.~~

Gain access to The New Yorker's
99-year-old house style guide.

~~Foster a relationship with Editorial.~~

~~Gain access to The New Yorker's
99-year-old house style guide.~~

Build from there,
focussing on the digital.

Word List

For words not included here, refer to The New Yorker's Word List.

A.R. (short for “augmented reality,” or “augmented-reality” when modifying)

Android (apps are available on or with Android, or built for Android, never in Android)

App Store (apps are available on the App Store or downloaded from the App Store, never at)

cloud, the (computing)

cookie (in computing, not capitalized)

data (treat as plural noun)

desktop

dot-com e-mail (verb and noun)

embed

Gmail

Google (verb)

Google Play (get it on Google Play, never in or at) home page (two words)

hi-fi

in-box

instant message (noun), instant-message (verb)

Internet

iOS (apps are available on iOS, not in iOS)

link (preferred over “hyperlink”) live: live stream(ing), live blog(ing), live tweet(ing) (verb: live-stream, etc.)

newyorker.com (lowercase, no “www.” or italics)

CREATING A STYLE GUIDE

The New Yorker

UX Writing Style Guide

Table of Contents

Names

Newsletters

UX Copy Catalogue

House Rules

Word List

Additional Guides

Names

The official names of our products, features, and functions.

Apps

The New Yorker app (see the messaging guide)

The NYer Print Edition app (see the messaging guide)

App Sections

Top Stories

Magazine

Cartoons

CREATING A STYLE GUIDE

Renew now and get a free gift »

THE NEW YORKER

News Culture Books Humor Cartoons

Michelin, whose current director, Gwendal Poullennec, announced on Monday that it "did not find additional restaurants at the three star level," again rained its stars on starry Los Angeles.

Photograph by Leonard Ortiz / Orange County Register / Getty

In 2008, during a period of global expansion, the Michelin guide, a French handbook of great restaurants, launched a new edition dedicated to the city of Los Angeles. The following year, after only two L.A. guides had been published, Michelin withdrew its attention from the city. The organization behind the guide blamed its departure on the financial crisis, but it was hard for L.A.'s gastronomes to avoid taking it personally: in the wake of the cancellation, Michelin's director at the time, Jean-Luc Naret, declared that "the people in Los Angeles are not real foodies. They are not too interested in eating well, but just in who goes to which restaurant and where they sit." L.A.'s high-end dining scene was Save this story for later.

THE NEW YORKER My Profile

DAILY SHOUTS

HEALING CRYSTALS AND HOW TO SHOPLIFT THEM

By Sarah Lazarus
June 8 2019

f t e

Photography by Tom Cochrain / Getty

Rose quartz opens up your heart chakra and can attract new love. To breathe through your nose as

To revisit this article, visit My Profile, then View saved stories.

PART 3

Breaking the Rules

BREAKING THE RULES

Know best practices.

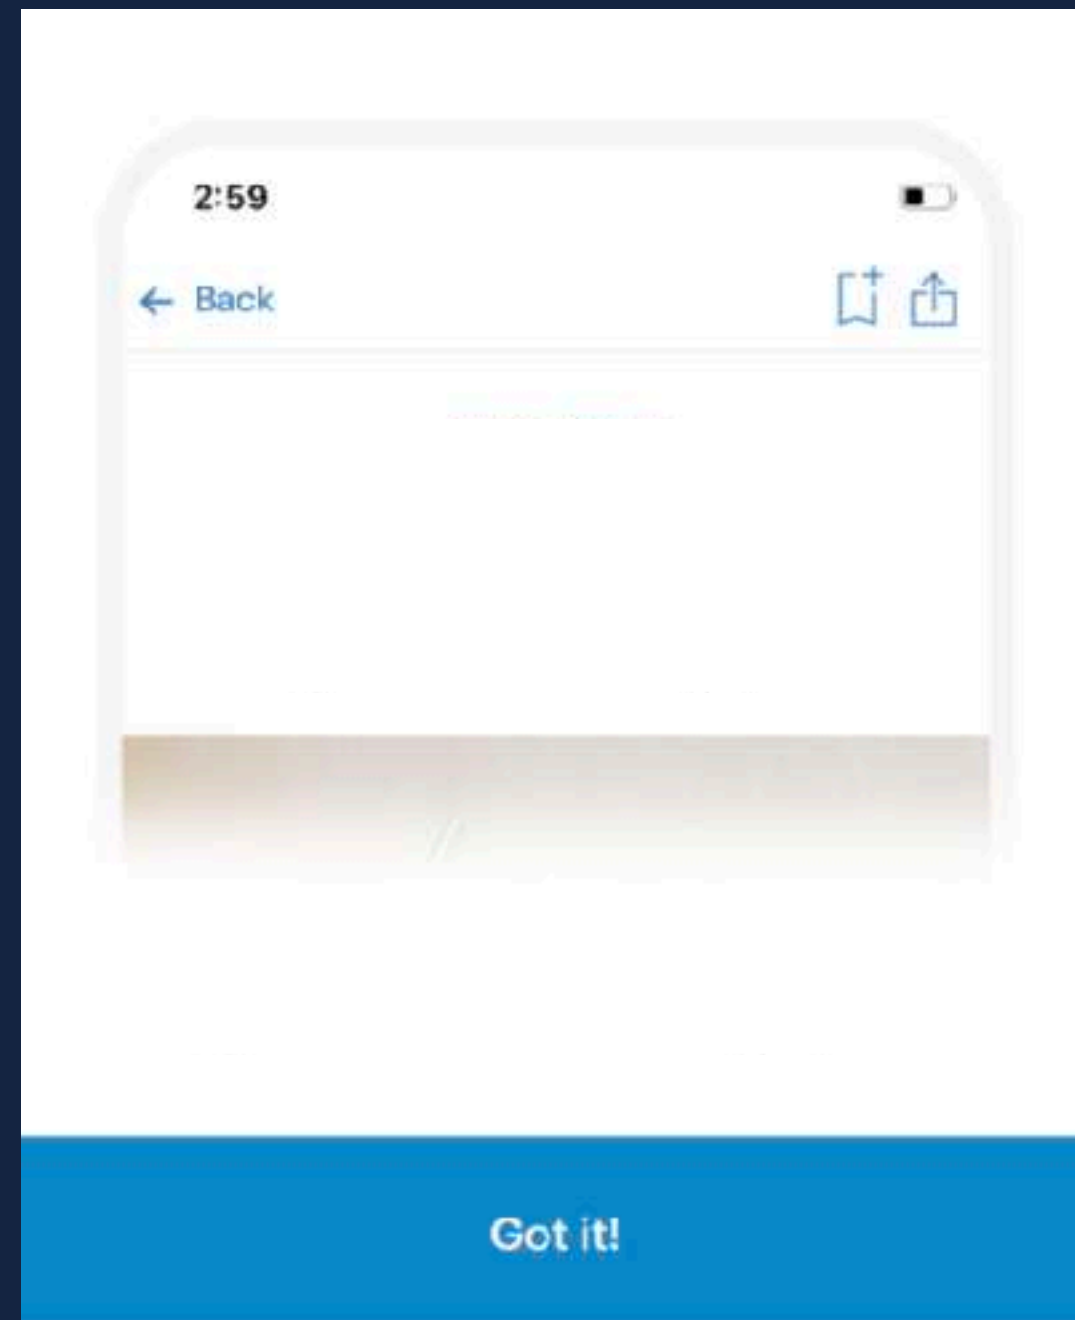

BREAKING THE RULES

Know ~~best practices.~~
which practices are best for you.

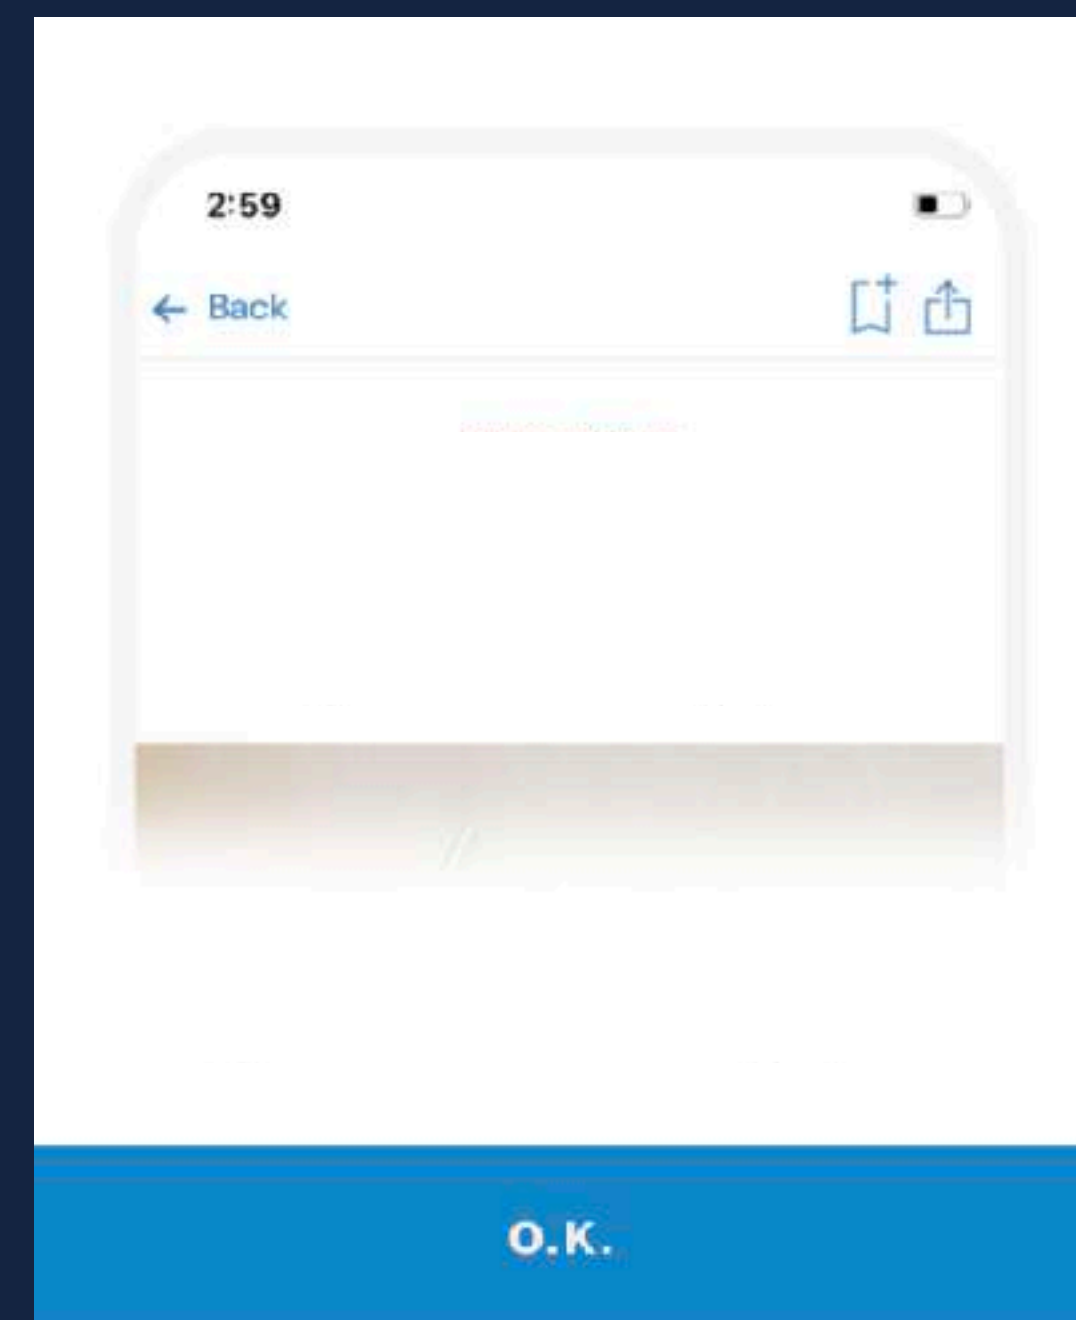

BREAKING THE RULES

How do you write a confirmation button when your voice would never say “Got it”?

BREAKING THE RULES

X

✓

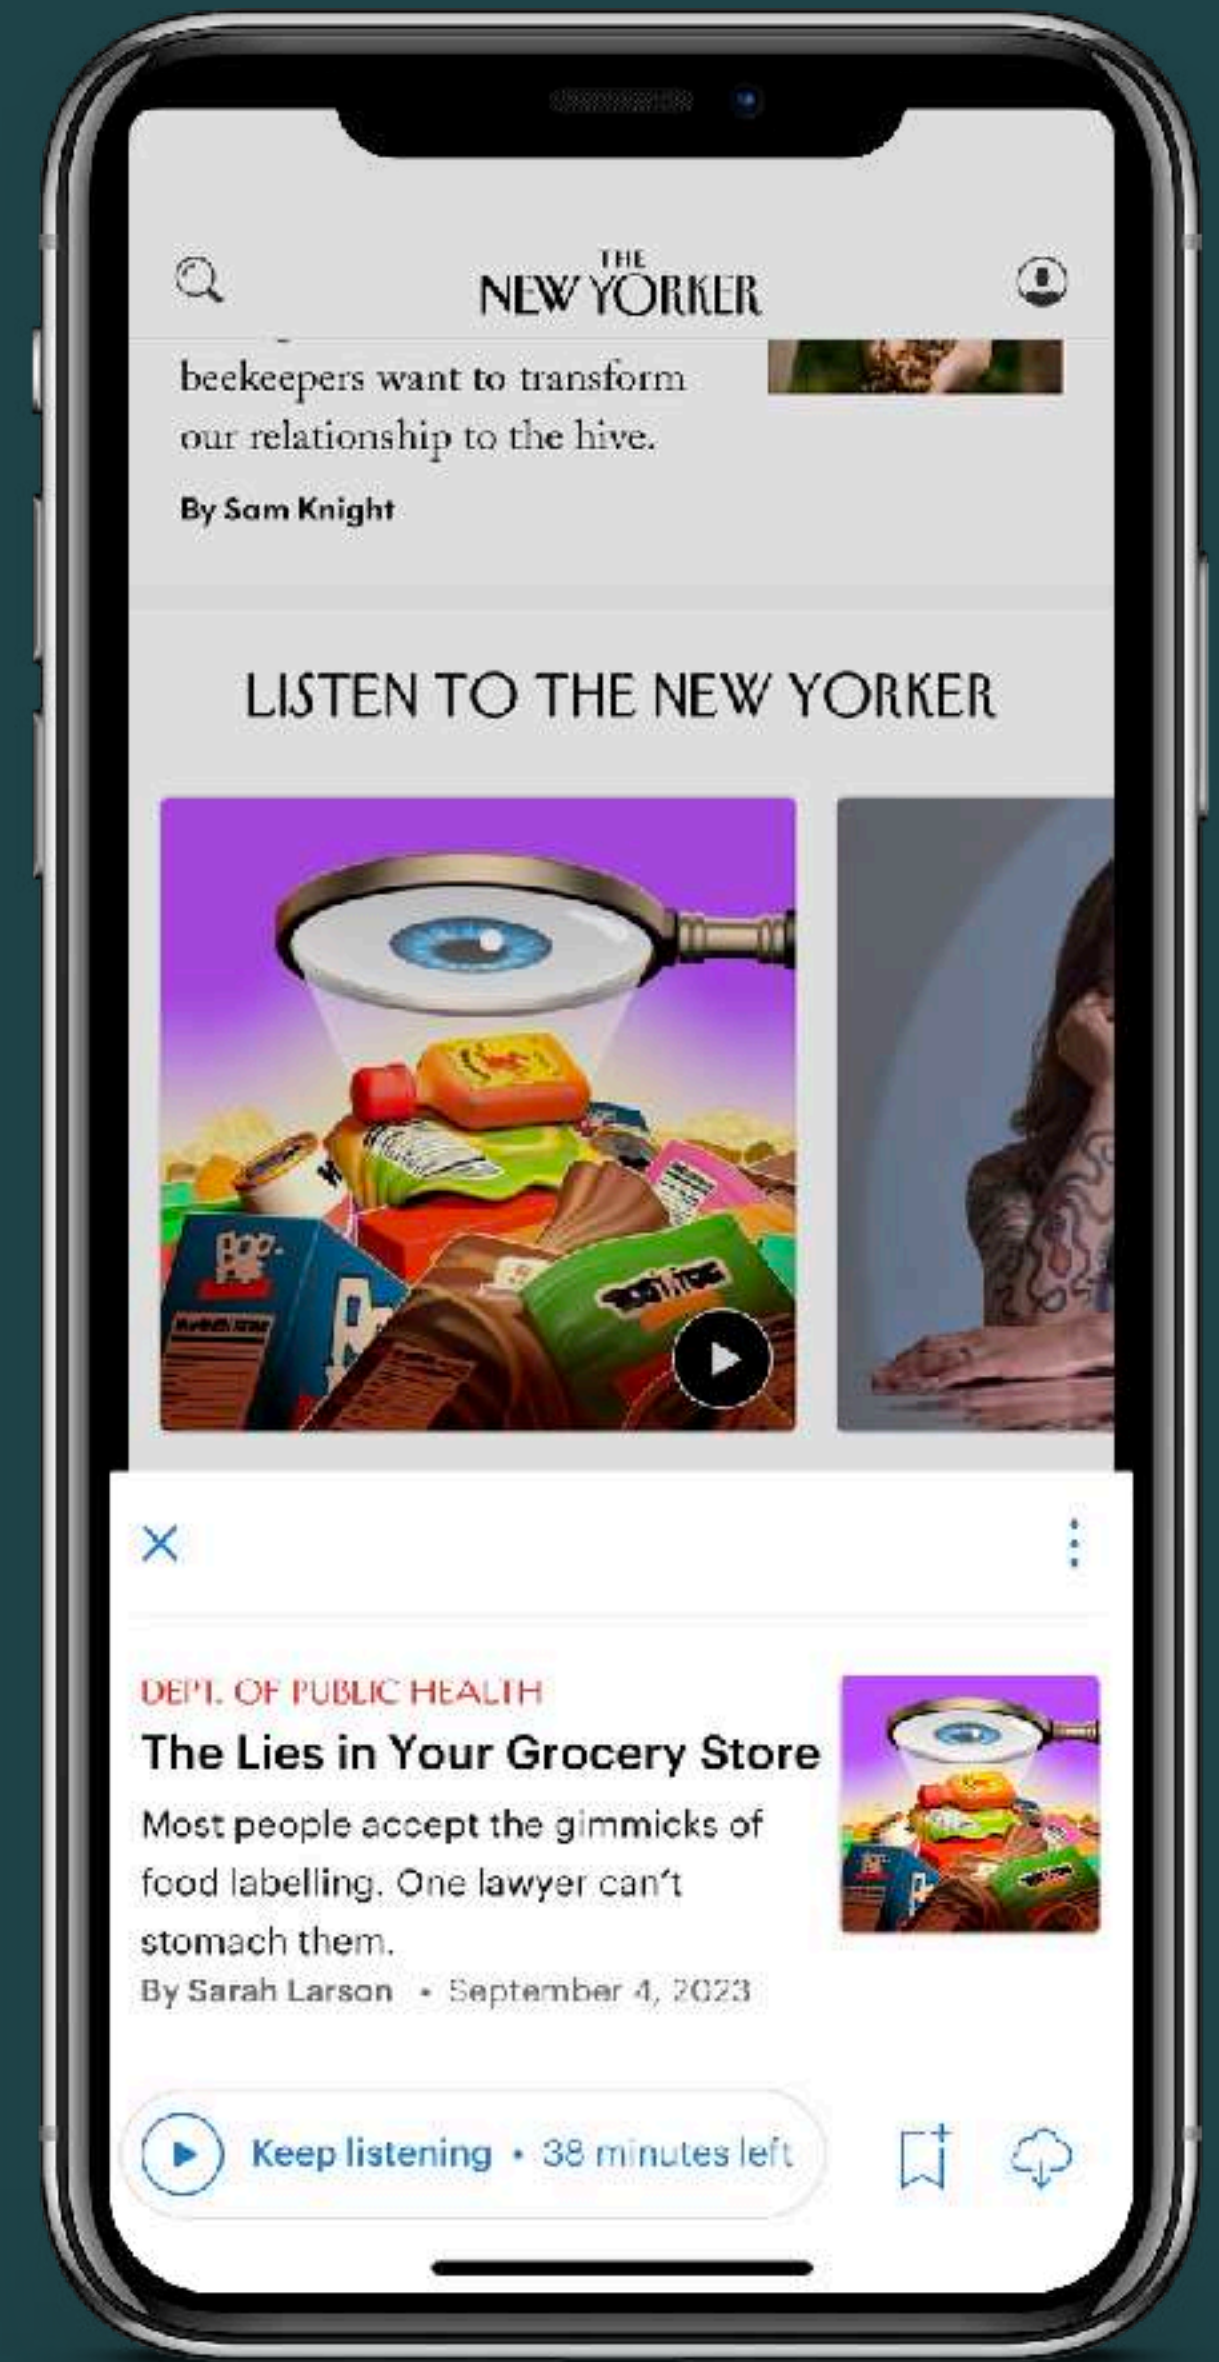

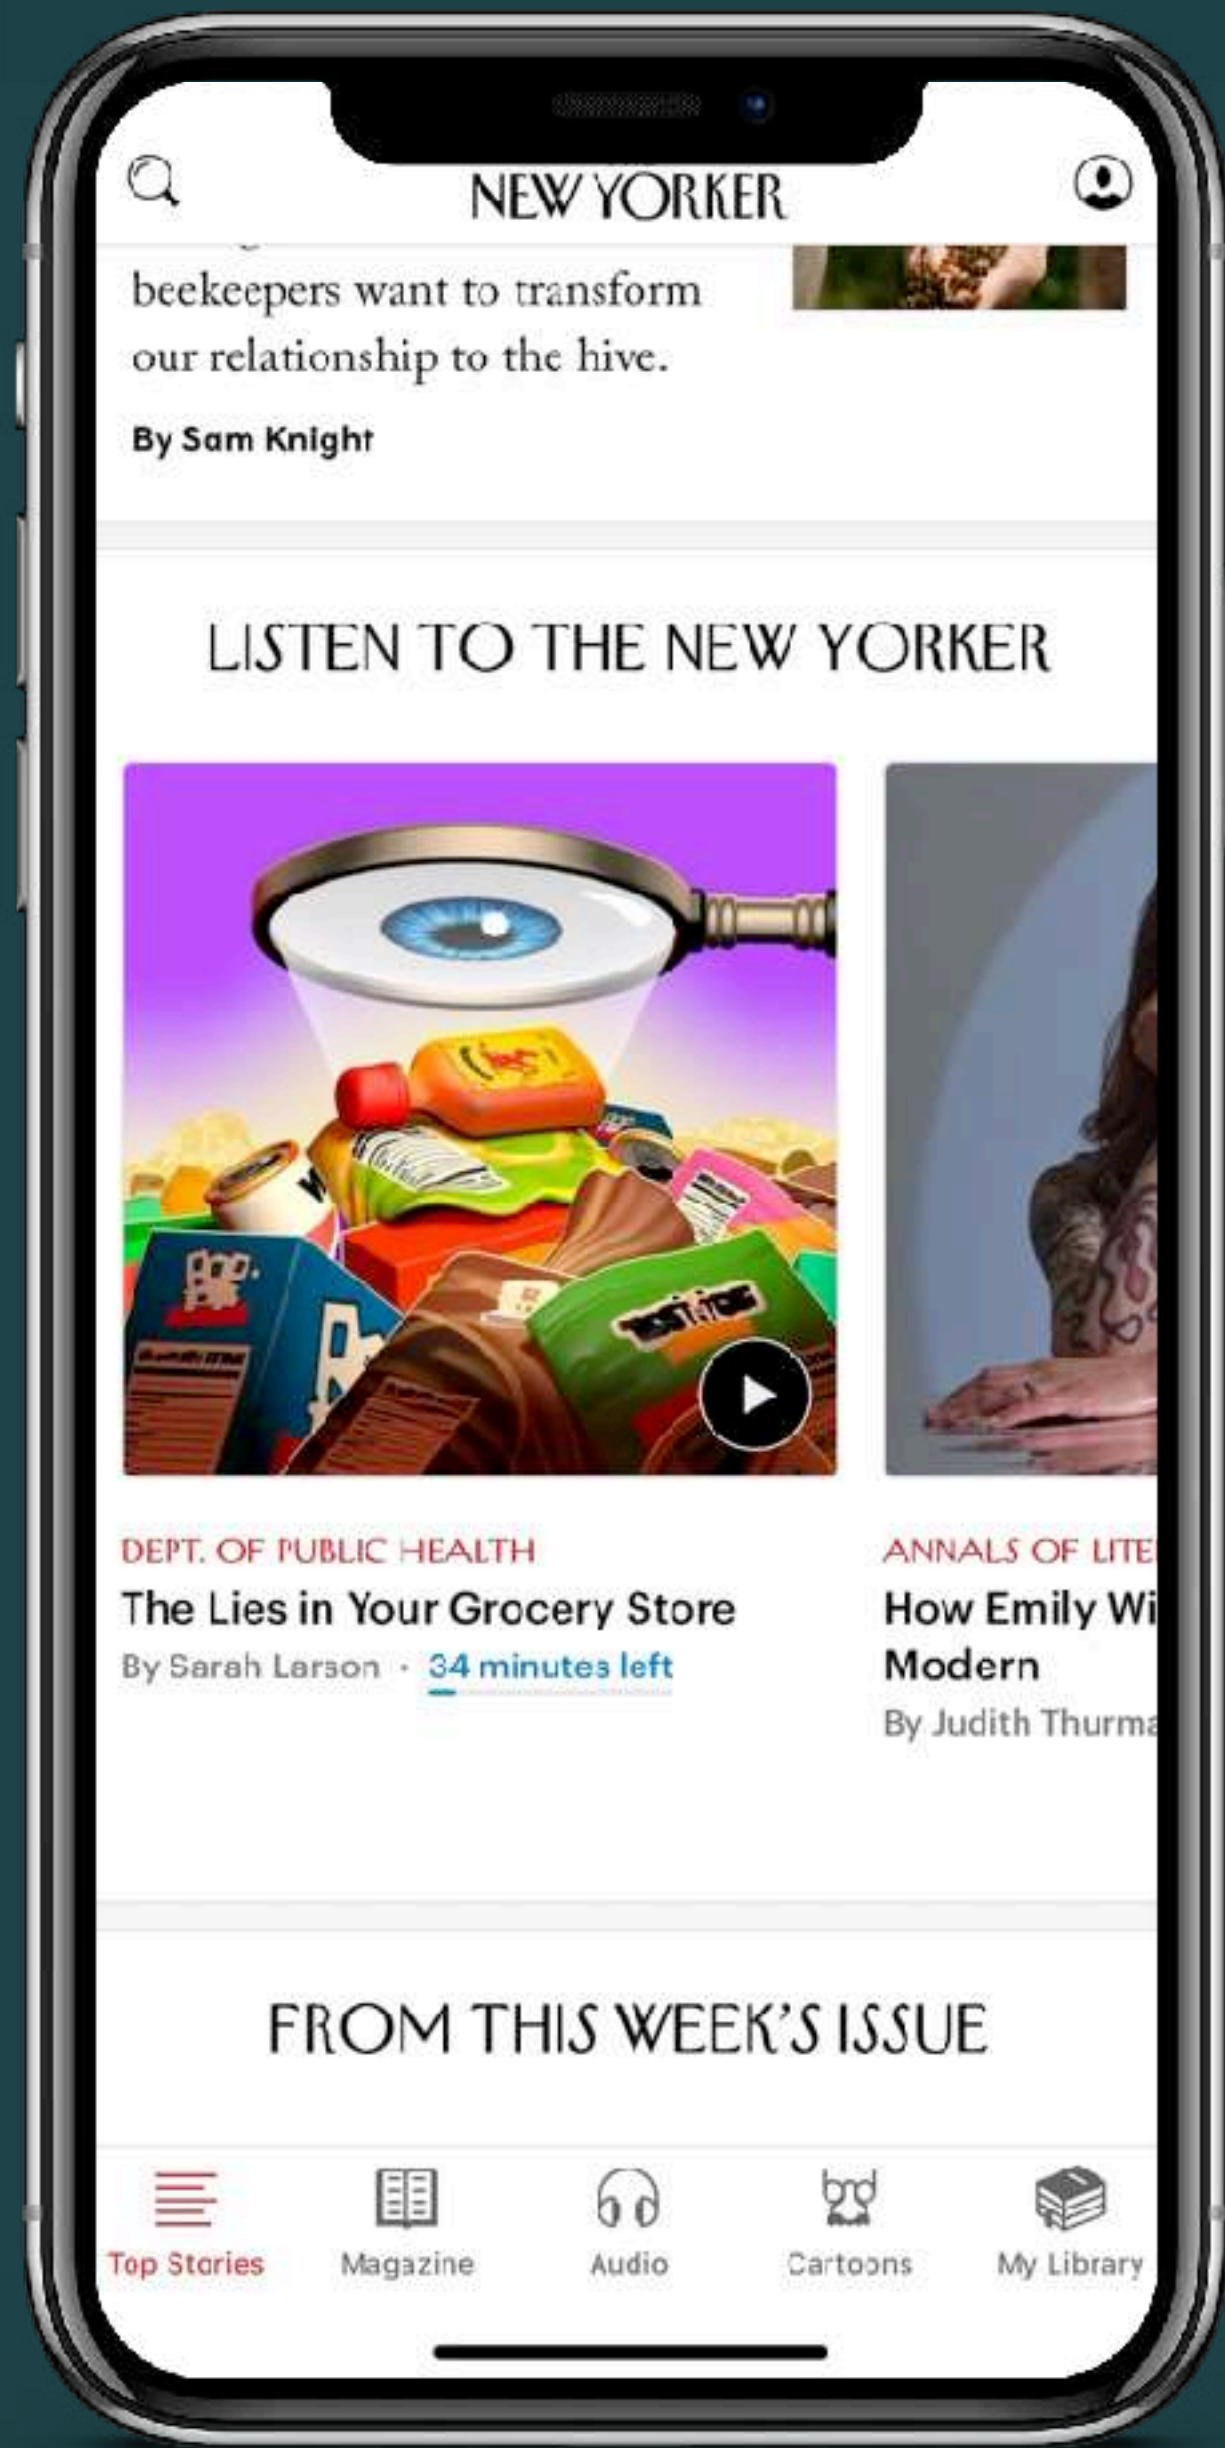

BREAKING THE RULES

Questioning best practices insures* every choice is consistent with the look, feel, and sound of the magazine.

*Including spelling “insure” with an i.

PART 4

A Look at the Results

ALICE MUNRO

Photography by Connor Willumsen.

The Canadian writer Alice Munro, who won the Nobel Prize in Literature in 2013, has published more than sixty stories in The New Yorker, since her first story, “Royal Beatings,” ran in 1977. In the astute and masterly stories featured here—she has written more than a dozen collections—Munro, whom James Wood calls “our Chekhov,” captures the hopes, betrayals, triumphs, losses, and revelations of life.

Selected Stories

THE BEAR CAME OVER THE MOUNTAIN

“He took her up on it, he shouted yes. He wanted never to be away from her. She had the spark of life.”

AMUNDSEN

“The station had been open when the train arrived, but now it was locked.”

DIMENSION

“None of the people she worked with knew what had happened. Or, if they did, they didn’t let on.”

PODCAST

Margaret Atwood reads the Alice Munro piece “Corrie.”

PAGE-TURNER

On “Dear Life”: An Interview with Alice Munro

PUZZLES & GAMES

THE CROSSWORD

A puzzle that ranges in difficulty, with themes on Fridays.

Solve today's puzzle

-
Yesterday
-
Thursday
-
Wednesday
-
Tuesday
-
Monday

NAME DROP

Guess the notable person in six clues or fewer.

Play today's quiz

THE CRYPTIC

For lovers of wily wordplay.

Solve this week's puzzle

PUZZLES & GAMES DEPT. THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 2022

THE NEW YORKER'S
NAME DROP

The fewer clues you need,
the more points you receive.

By Matt Jackson

Play quiz

Learn how to play »

x Close

NAME DROP

HOW TO PLAY

The goal of each game is to guess a notable name, using as few clues as possible.

- You can request up to six clues to help you guess. The clues become easier as you go along.
- Every time you request another clue (by selecting "Next clue"), your score drops by a point. If you answer correctly on the first clue (labelled "Clue 6"), your score will be six points. If you answer correctly on the next clue ("Clue 5"), your score will be five points, and so on.
- You can review previous clues at any time without losing points.
- When you think you know the answer, select the answer button and type it in. For people with multiple names, go with the most well-known option. Either first and last name, or just last name, is acceptable.
- You only get one guess. Incorrect answers score zero points, so guess carefully.
- The game ends after a hundred seconds. If you run out of time, you also score zero points, so keep an eye on the timer!

Play quiz

Get ready . . .

100 seconds

6 clues

1 answer

NAME DROP

CLUE 4

I was raised in the Bahamas for much of my childhood, and I served as the country's Ambassador to Japan from 1997 to 2007.

-1 point

Answer for 4 points

Perfect. You scored 6 out of 6 points.
That puts you in the top 10% of players so far.

If you could win a MacArthur "genius" grant for trivia, you'd have just won it.

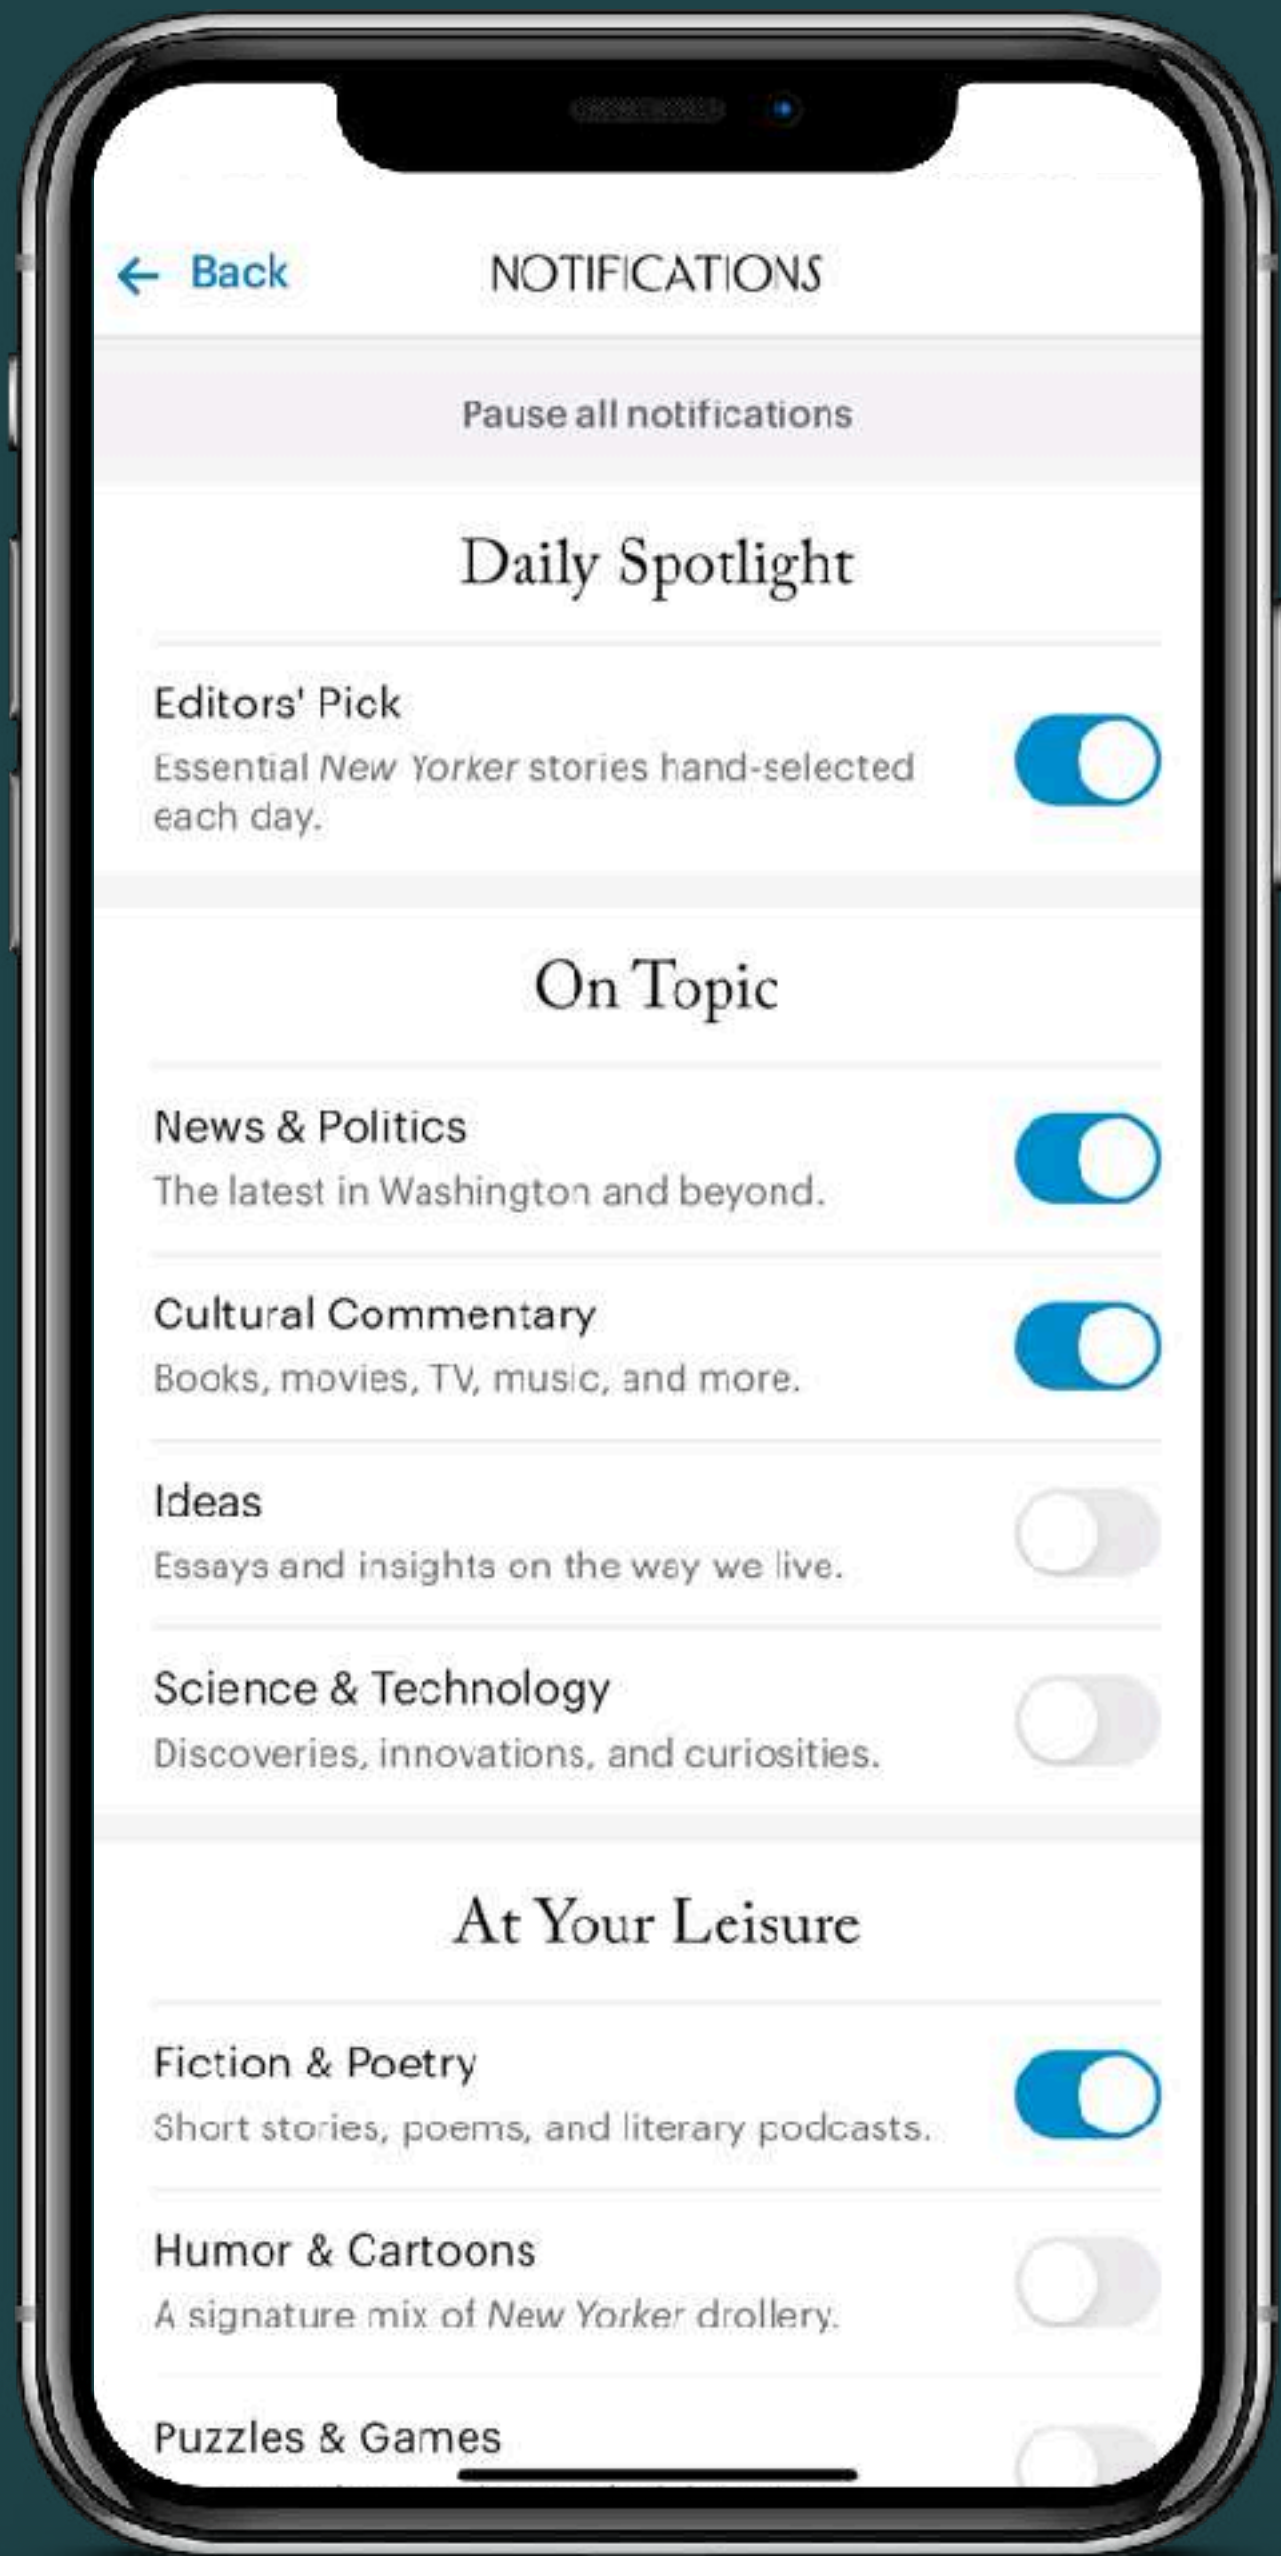

Correct. You scored 2 out of 6 points.
That's higher than 40% of players so far.

Savor this moment. Once you're scoring sixes every time, you'll miss the thrill of the chase.

Incorrect. You scored 0 out of 6 points.

This is even harder than that cursed Cartoon Caption Contest.

← Back

NOTIFICATIONS

Pause all notifications

Daily Spotlight

Editors' Pick

Essential New Yorker stories hand-selected each day.

On Topic

News & Politics

The latest in Washington and beyond.

Cultural Commentary

Books, movies, TV, music, and more.

Ideas

Essays and insights on the way we live.

Science & Technology

Discoveries, innovations, and curiosities.

At Your Leisure

Fiction & Poetry

Short stories, poems, and literary podcasts.

Humor & Cartoons

A signature mix of New Yorker drollery.

Puzzles & Games

THE
NEW YORKER

DECEMBER 14, 2020

Adjusting monocle . . .

Even as we adapt to new technologies,
it's still The New Yorker behind the screen.

Thank you!