When we speak, our tone of voice gives meaning to what we say, and who we speak to.

So does typefaces.

Why does it matter?

- Emotions matter
- We should control the narrative
- We have the power to make life easier.

EMERGENCY

Overall, typography is more than just a tool for conveying information. It is as psychological as it is visual. It can affect our mood, emotions and decisions.

- How can we wield this power the right way?
- How can we make people's lives easier with our type skills?
- How can we influence people to make better decisions with our typography?

With great power comes great responsibility.

thankyou.
